39 Mr. Norkus allowed the applicant into the meeting. Mr. Marx stated the request is for the demolition of 885 Private Road or if an HAIS would be required. He described the location of the property, size and zoning classification of the property and surrounding properties. Mr. Marx stated the front porch was enclosed in 1970 and stated no one of significance lived in the home. He noted the Historical Society found the property did not have historical or architectural significance.

45 Vu Trieu of North Shore Development Group stated they plan to build a 7,000 square foot single family residence. Chairperson Holland asked if there were any questions. Ms. Comstock asked if the new home would be a spec home and the style of the home. Mr. Trieu described the new home as transactional stucco style home. Mr. Enck asked if the home was listed on the market. Mr. Trieu responded the home was listed privately on the MLS and the home was in the middle of an addition when the owner decided not to finish the project. Mr. Enck asked if he is working on other spec homes in the community. Mr. Trieu responded this is his first project in Winnetka and he has done several homes on the North Shore. Ms. Good asked if how he found out about the home if it was listed privately on the MLS and Mr. Trieu responded it was on the private network. Ms. Good also stated the new home would be very large and asked if a home that size would affect the neighbors on either side. Mr. Trieu stated there

1 are a lot of large homes on Private Road and it would fit in the neighborhood. Ms. Comstock stated the new home
2 would be more than double in size. Mr. Stuart asked if they planned to save the old mature trees and Mr. Trieu
3 confirmed that is correct. No additional questions were raised at this time.

5 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any comments from the public. Mr. Norkus noted there are several 6 members of the public he would allow into the meeting. He asked John Roundtree and Richard Birmingham for any 7 comments. No comments were made at this time. Mr. Norkus confirmed that concluded public comment for this 8 matter.

10 Ms. Comstock stated the street is very narrow and the construction would be very disruptive. Chairperson Holland
11 stated the Community Development Department handled previous construction on the street very well. She asked
12 for a motion for an HAIS or to allow demolition. Chairperson Holland moved in accordance with Section 15.52.040,
13 the building and property is not of sufficient architectural or historic merit to warrant an HAIS and the demolition
14 may proceed without delay. Ms. Comstock seconded the motion. A vote was taken and the motion unanimously
15 passed, 7 to 0:

19 Case No. 20-18: 460 Ash Street: Preliminary Review of the application for demolition of the single family
20 residence at 460 Ash Street.

21 Mr. Marx stated the application submitted by 460 Ash LLC who is represented by Jon Kogan is with regard to 22 whether an HAIS would be required or if demolition would be allowed to proceed. He identified photos of the 23 home and described the property, location and its zoning classification. Mr. Marx stated there was no certain date
24 of construction and no alterations to the property other than a dormer in 1983 and basement changes. He noted
25 the original architect is unclear and the Historical Society stated the property does not have architectural or 26 historical significance. Mr. Marx added since there was no date of construction, there is no way to tell if there were 27 other alterations to the home.
28

29 Mr. Norkus allowed Tom Dennis of Agate Builders into the meeting representing the applicant. Chairperson
30 Holland referred to the western lot line which is the result of a divided lot. Mr. Dennis stated he is not aware of 31 that and stated they plan to design a 5,800 square foot spec home.
32

33 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any questions. Ms. Comstock commented on the proposed front porch for 34 the home and asked what are the building's materials. Mr. Dennis responded the home may contain a brick 35 exterior with a cedar shake roof with the goal to create a large front porch to fit in with the community. Ms.
36 Comstock asked the builder to adhere to the character of the community since there were no teardowns on the 37 block.
38

39 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any other questions. Mr. Enck asked if the home listed on the MLS. Mr.
40 Dennis responded it was a private sale and may have been an estate sale. Mr. Enck also asked if the entire 5,800
41 square feet would be done above ground or if the home would have a deep basement. Mr. Dennis responded it
42 would have a standard basement of 10.5 to 11 feet. Ms. Comstock asked Mr. Dennis what other homes he built in 43 Winnetka and Mr. Dennis responded 689 Ash Street, 1200 Pine Street as well as a number of other properties on 44 the North Shore.
45

46 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any other questions. No additional questions were raised at this time. She 47 then asked if there were any public comments. Mr. Norkus asked the caller attendees if they had any comments.
48 No comments were made at this time.
49

50 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any additional comments from the Commission. No additional comments
51 were made at this time. She then moved to state in accordance with Section 15.52.040, the building and/or 52 property is not of sufficient architectural or historic merit to warrant an HAIS and the demolition may proceed
53 without delay. Mr. Schoon confirmed Chairperson Holland cannot make the motion but can only entertain a

1 motion. A motion was made by Mr. Enck as stated by Chairperson Holland and seconded by Ms. Comstock. A vote
2 was taken and the motion unanimously passed, 7 to 0:

3 AYES: Comstock, Enck, Good, Holland, Papoutsis, Stuart, Weaver

4 NAYS: None

6 Case No. 20-19: 644 Pine Street: Preliminary Review of the application for demolition of the single family
7 residence at 644 Pine Street.

8 Mr. Marx stated the application was submitted by Doug Minahan which owned the trust with the determination of 9 whether an HAIS is needed or if demolition would be allowed to proceed. He identified photos of the front and 10 rear of the property and described the property, location and zoning classification. Mr. Marx stated the property
11 was constructed in 1922 and the original architect was most likely Edwin Clark. He noted the property was also 12 home to several prominent Chicago residents and other well-known individuals. Mr. Marx then stated the 13 Historical Society determined the property has architectural or historical significance related to the residents and 14 architect. Mr. Norkus allowed Doug Minahan into the meeting.

16 Doug Minahan informed the Commission they purchased the home last month noting the home had been 17 marketed for a couple of years and the new home may be consistent with the existing home. Chairperson Holland
18 asked if there were any questions. Mr. Weaver asked Mr. Minahan if he discussed modifying the home with an 19 architect. Mr. Minahan responded they did and determined the home was not livable for today's family and 20 described the outdated features of the home. Mr. Enck asked Mr. Minahan if rehab would be more expensive than 21 tearing the home down. Mr. Minahan confirmed that is correct and stated they discussed it with new build and 22 rehab architects. He also stated they have not done any other construction in Winnetka and have built homes in 23 Wilmette. Chairperson Holland referred to the importance of an Edwin Clark home to the Village and stated there
24 are ways to modernize and revise these types of homes as opposed to tearing them down.

25
26 Mr. Enck asked Mr. Minahan what drew his family to Pine Lane. Mr. Minahan responded they are familiar with 27 Winnetka and they wanted a larger lot. Mr. Stuart asked Mr. Minahan if they considered open lots and Mr.
28 Minahan responded they looked at a lot of options. Mr. Enck referred to several examples over the years of large 29 homes which are different from the way families live today and described great examples where owners had 30 successful results in rehabbing homes which received awards from the Village. He suggested discussing rehab with 31 the right architect along with financial incentives which apply to the property. Ms. Comstock also asked Mr.
32 Minahan to consider rehabbing the home on behalf of the Commission. Chairperson Holland identified other 33 buildings designed by Edwin Clark and stated the Commission would be sad to see this home torn down.

34
35 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any other comments from the Commission or the public. Mr. Norkus
36 asked several callers if there was any comment. No comments were made at this time. Ms. Papoutsis reiterated
37 the Commission Members' comments that they are sad the Edwin Clark home would be demolished. She then 38 stated in connection with the challenges of rehabbing a home, she asked Mr. Minahan to consider renovating the 39 home and to use the list of trades people and architects to be compiled by the Village. Ms. Good agreed with all of 40 the comments made and referred to the architectural continuity of the project which had additions done by Edwin 41 Clark over time. She then stated updating electrical and plumbing for the home would not be as prohibitively
42 expensive or difficult as Mr. Minahan thought and asked him to reconsider. Ms. Good then moved to request an

45 Chairperson Holland read the following statement: "The Commission finds that based upon the preliminary 46 property history study, Historical Society comments and other information, comments or evidence received by the 47 Commission at its preliminary review, that the building and/or property is of sufficient historic or architectural 48 merit to warrant an HAIS prior to issuance of the demolition permit." She then stated the Commission reached its 49 conclusion based upon the criteria she read from page 3 of the agenda report meeting criteria no. 4. Ms. Good
50 moved to approve the motion as stated and seconded by Mr. Weaver. A vote was taken and the motion
51 unanimously passed, 7 to 0:

52 AYES: Comstock, Enck, Good, Holland, Papoutsis, Stuart, Weaver

Case No. 20-20: 636 Garland Avenue: Preliminary Review of the application for demolition of the single family residence at 636 Garland Avenue.

Mr. Marx stated the property is owned by a trust and is under contract for purchase by Matthew Havey. He identified photos of the home and described its location and zoning classification. Mr. Marx stated the home was constructed in approximately 1924 by prominent architect, William Aitkin, and has prominent Georgian Revival features and was occupied by several notable residents he identified. He stated Historical Society research indicated the property has historical and architectural significance relating to the architect and its residents. Mr. Marx noted a bay window was added in 1986.

Mr. Norkus allowed Matthew Havey and his wife into the meeting. Chairperson Holland asked if there were any questions. Ms. Good asked Mr. Havey what drew him to the property and Mr. Havey responded the home's location and lot size. He added he grew up in the area and looked in the area for a while. Mr. Havey also stated they asked their broker to inform them if the home went up for sale after the fire. Ms. Good asked what are the plans for the new home. Mr. Havey responded they are working with a builder and architect and the home would be a traditional, symmetrical home measuring approximately 4,000-5,000 square feet. He stated with regard to setbacks, the current home has a driveway on the east side and they planned to have an attached garage and adhere to the setbacks. Mr. Havey also stated they are considering cedar or brick for the home's exterior. Mr. Enck asked if they considered rehabbing the home after the fire. Mr. Havey responded they considered that first but there is expensive smoke and water damage. He stated they were advised by their builder and others that remediation and mold abatement would be extremely expensive. Mr. Havey stated their architect primarily built new homes and that he is experienced with commercial construction projects and he works for a real estate development firm. Mr. Enck stated it would be a shame to lose 100 years of architectural character on the street in favor of new construction and Mr. Havey agreed.

Chairperson Holland stated the press reported it was a minor fire. Mr. Havey stated a full 360 video tour of the home was submitted to the Commission to show the extent of the damage which is evident when you open the door.

Mr. Norkus allowed Jack Kruszewski and Max Kruszewski of Foxwood Development into the meeting to provide information with regard to the existing structure. Mr. Kruszewski stated photos of the home were submitted with the application noting the entire east side of the home was directly impacted with the west side impacted by smoke and water damage as well as mold. Mr. Marx confirmed photos were sent to the Commission on Friday.

Ms. Good noted for the record the loss of another William Aitkin home a few months ago. Mr. Schoon provided photos to the Commission for their review. Mr. Havey noted the home would be under the allowable amount of FAR for the lot and referred to the link to the 360 view of the home. Mr. Coladarci asked if it would cost more to gut the home to the shell and rebuild as opposed to new construction. Mr. Kruszewski confirmed that is correct reiterating the new home would have smaller square footage. Mr. Havey confirmed he was the only family member allowed in the home since the damage was so bad and he only toured the first floor.

Chairperson Holland stated the former owners were relatives of Mr. Boatman and asked Mr. Havey if there were any plans of the existing home. Mr. Havey responded they would check into it. He noted multiple offers were received for the home and the family determined they did not think the other buyers were credible due to the extent of the home's damage. Mr. Coladarci asked when the photos were taken. Mr. Havey informed the Commission the family sold the home to them knowing it was their intent to demolish it. Mr. Kruszewski stated the photos were taken right after the fire and the home deteriorated further since then.

Mr. Enck asked Mr. Havey if they considered buying a new home or if their intent was always to tear down and build a new home. Mr. Havey responded 95% of the homes they looked at over the last year were existing homes and they were open to new construction if the right property came along. Ms. Good referred to the other bidders' intent to rebuild as opposed to demolish and stated the family may not have had the knowledge to make the

1 determination that the home had the ability to be rehabbed. Mr. Havey stated they were told the only realistic
2 solution was to tear down the home.

4 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any other questions. She then stated it would be difficult to do an HAIS
5 due to the home's damage noting William Aitkin was a prominent architect. Chairperson Holland then asked for a
6 motion for an HAIS.

8 Mr. Norkus first allowed callers into the meeting. Mr. Roundtree began by stating while the home may not be 9 architecturally important, it is historically important for Winnetka and the Garland Avenue residents. He referred
10 to information he received from Sue Garland relating to the home as well as for the trees to be maintained with 11 the new construction together with five others which require maintenance and asked that they be part of the new 12 plans. Mr. Roundtree then stated with regard to external damage, it did not appear to be as dramatic as the 13 pictures suggest and referred to the renovation at 660 Garland. He questioned whether it was necessary to 14 demolish it or if it was possible to augment it and maintain the neighborhood character. Mr. Havey referred to 15 page 49 of the agenda packet of the Chicago Tribune article noting it is not the same Garland owner as the early
16 Winnetka founders. He stated they planned to build a home in keeping with the street character and a renovation
17 similar to 660 Garland would be prohibitively expensive. Mr. Kruszewski informed Mr. Roundtree that the home is 18 still in the design stage and would be smaller than the existing home.
19

20 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any other questions. Mr. Coladarci asked if the materials and build would 21 be close to the current home. Mr. Havey stated they appreciate the real estate value in this area and plan to build 22 a home which would retain its investment value which would improve the block's value which is why they chose 23 Foxwood Development.
24

25 Chairperson Holland stated if the Commission asked for an HAIS using available photos to have documentation of 26 the structure, she asked Mr. Havey if they would entertain a month delay for demolition. Mr. Havey responded he 27 would prefer not to since the study findings and photos would only show the damage and the fact the home is 28 unsalvageable and described it as meaningful money spent when they are trying to save for their family.
29 Chairperson Holland stated the HAIS cost is de minimus.
30

31 Mr. Norkus allowed Patrick Birmingham into the meeting to comment. Patrick Birmingham stated he lives next 32 door and informed the Commission a friend considered purchasing the home who considered rehab. He referred 33 to the side yard setback and commented the home may worth looking into. Mr. Havey confirmed they looked into 34 rehab. Mr. Norkus then allowed Ryan Clark into the meeting and asked if there were any comments. No comments
35 were made at this time. Mr. Norkus confirmed public comment is concluded.
36

37 Ms. Good stated they would set a dangerous precedent to proceed with an HAIS based on a result of affordability
38 and ability to pay for the study and it should relate to whether the home qualified for it. Mr. Coladarci referred to 39 the difficulty in creating an HAIS on the damaged home and asked if it made sense to require it if enough
40 information is not obtained from it. Chairperson Holland referred to the safety of an historian gaining access to the 41 home and attempting to perform the study. She agreed that cost is not an issue for the Commission to debate. Mr.
42 Enck stated the 3-D walkthrough can be used by the historian. Chairperson Holland confirmed the Commission
43 wanted documentation for the home although the home is damaged.
44

45 Chairperson Holland then asked for a motion for either an HAIS or demolition without delay. Mr. Enck moved to 46 request an HAIS based on the Historical Society's comments and based on criteria no. 4. Ms. Good seconded the 47 motion. A vote was taken and the motion unanimously passed, 7 to 0:

48 AYES: Comstock, Enck, Good, Holland, Papoutsis, Stuart, Weaver

49 NAYS: None
50

51 Mr. Marx stated the applicants would be provided information for those who have provided past HAIS reports to 52 the Village. Chairperson Holland explained the HAIS process to the applicants.

Introductory Remarks Regarding Conduct of Virtual Meeting.

Chairperson Holland read the Oral Declaration into the record.

Case No. 20-16: 1180 Oakley Avenue: Review of the Historical Architectural Impact Study (HAIS) submitted for the single family residence at 1180 Oakley Avenue.

Mr. Marx noted that the Commission decided an HAIS was necessary for the demolition application at their August 3 meeting by a vote of 5-0. He identified photos of the property in the PowerPoint presentation and described details of the property.

Susan Benjamin and Jeanne Sylvester introduced themselves as the authors of the HAIS and reported their findings. They described the original architects of the building as Kocher & Larson and the distinctive Mediterranean Revival style of architecture. They briefly identified the notable inhabitants of the house. They detailed the interior features of the house and made note of the wood bannister and wrought-iron balusters on the stairways. They also described the context of the neighborhood with the other houses on the block which included Colonial Revival and Arts & Crafts style housing. They noted that the property was historically and architecturally significant as summarized in the HAIS. Susan Benjamin of Benjamin Certifications provided a summary of the HAIS to the Commission as follows: "The house has historical significance because of its association with many distinguished owners, and it has architectural significance because of being such an excellent and unaltered example of Mediterranean Revival architecture. Despite its numerous owners, and at least one renter, residents didn't make detrimental changes to the building and the significant areas of the house are as intact as they were in 1921, when 1180 Oakley was designed. The only historic photograph found, in a real estate listing from the 1940s, shows that the front façade of 1180 Oakley has not been altered at all. This is also true of the interior public spaces - the front stair vestibule, the living room and the dining room. The detailing - from crown moldings, to doors and windows, to hardware, to the elegantly ornamented stair balustrade - is extraordinary. Because the significance of the house is reflected in its front facade and its relationship to the street, removing the house would have an irreversible impact on the cohesiveness of the neighborhood. The most important interior features are all found in the major public spaces facing Oakley Avenue. Preservation of the front of the house, with these spaces, would retain the building's significance and its relationship with the street. A compromise, as an alternative to demolition, could include building an addition to the rear of the house with the

1 re-use of the south elevation French doors, fanlight windows, and second story Diocletian window. The new
2 owners would receive more livable space and the significant historic architectural features would remain intact. A 3 rear addition that accommodates the functional needs of the new owners and retains the most significant historic
4 features of the major public spaces at the front of the house could well qualify for an Illinois Property Tax
5 Assessment Freeze, which would result in considerable property tax savings for the homeowners, while preserving
6 the unaltered historic character of the house.”

8 Chairperson Holland asked if there were any comments or questions for Susan Benjamin and Jeanne Sylvester.
9 Several members asked the consultants about details of the report and the house.

11 Mr. Stuart commented that it's a beautiful historic street with a very special feeling because all the homes look 12 original to the design of the block. He also said the block has good proportions. He pointed out there isn't a single 13 teardown on the street and he knows people that have restored their homes while leaving the exteriors intact. He 14 said to Mr. Marzec that the Subject Property is one with very special rounded windows all in a row. He said walks
15 down the street occasionally and noted that 1160 Oakley was recently restored. He noted it as a Seyfarth designed 16 home. He reiterated that he hoped Mr. Marzec would consider restoring the home.

18 The applicant and owner of the property, Mr. Krzysztof Marzec, was given a chance to speak. Mr. Marzec
19 explained he was looking forward to settling into the neighborhood and was strongly considering a major
20 renovation rather than full demolition. Laura Good asked if had given strong consideration to the neighborhood
21 context and how the fits with the surrounding environment. She also brought up the prospect of a future
22 preservation award if Mr. Marzec were to preserve the house.

24 Ms. Good commented on the significance of the home to the block and the Village as well as the benefits of having 25 a landmarked home. Ms. Good asked Mr. Marzec to consider the property rights of the other homeowners on that 26 block. Mr. Marzec stated he understood how aware the Commission is on both sides of the issue.

27
28 Chairperson Holland stated the Village would send to Mr. Marzec the catalog of the Village's landmarks to show
29 the efforts made to maintain significant homes. Mr. Marx noted several comments were included as Attachment G
30 of the agenda report and no other additional comments were received since then. Mr. Schoon confirmed there are 31 five people in attendance. Ms. Kazenas allowed Jackie McLaughlin into the meeting who had no comment. She 32 allowed Paul and Meg Sullivan, 1160 Oakley, into the meeting.

33
34 Paul Sullivan stated they submitted an email of their comments. Mr. Marx confirmed they did not receive his 35 email. Mr. Sullivan stated his comments echoed the comments made in terms of what drew them to move to the 36 neighborhood which related to the vintage homes and charm of the street. He stated they chose to restore their 37 home as opposed to building new construction and asked Mr. Marzec to consider restoration which would help
38 retain the character and aesthetic of the street. Ms. Kazenas allowed Claudine Gerbel, 1181 Oakley, into the 39 meeting. Ms. Gerbel agreed with the comments made and agreed it is what drew them to the neighborhood. She 40 noted their home was built in 1916 and they restored their home which was important for the block's integrity.
41 Ms. Kazenas allowed Kathryn M. into the meeting. Kathryn M., 1189 Oakley, thanked the applicant for producing 42 the HAIS and agreed with the comments made. She noted their home was built in 1910 and the previous owners
43 restored the home to today's standards. Kathryn also stated she would appreciate the effort to keep the home.
44 Ms. Kazenas allowed Peter Eck, 957 Euclid, into the meeting. Peter Eck stated he echoed the comments made and 45 noted they are in the process of renovating their 99 year old home. He agreed it is a beautiful property and 46 appreciated the thoughtful discussion regarding it. Ms. Kazenas confirmed there are no other callers in attendance.

47
48 Chairperson Holland stated the Commission now has to vote on approval of the demolition application or to issue
49 a delay after deliberation. She asked if there were any other comments. No comments were made at this time.
50 Chairperson Holland then read the findings the Commission is to consider. She stated the Commission agreed the 51 HAIS is very complete. Chairperson Holland then asked for a motion that the HAIS is complete and the building or 52 structure is considered to be historically or architecturally significant and referred to the standards on page 3 of 53 the agenda report.

2 Ms. Good moved that the Commission found the H AIS to be complete and it met several of the criteria specifically
3 noting the structure exhibits a high quality of architectural design along with criteria nos. 2 and 3 with the last
4 criteria being not applicable. She then stated based upon these findings, the demolition must be delayed for a
5 period of 60 days in order to explore alternatives to demolition. Ms. Good commented she hoped alternatives
6 would be accomplished during the delay and a thoughtful final decision would be made. She also referred to a 7 neighbor who submitted a letter asking for a delay in connection with construction. Ms. Papoutsis seconded the 8 motion. A vote was taken and the motion unanimously passed:

9 AYES: Enck, Good, Holland, Papoutsis, Stuart, Weaver

10 NAYS: None

11 NON-VOTING: Coladarci

12
13 Training Session Regarding the Conduct of Meetings.

14 Mr. Schoon stated the training session would focus on the demolition permit process and described the 15 Commission's powers and duties and items which would require resources approved by the Village Council. He 16 then described roles and involvement of the PC, ZBA, DRB and EFC in the plan review process. Mr. Schoon then 17 stated when the Commission is presented with issues relating storm water management and tree preservation,
18 those are predominately handled at the staff level.

20 Mr. Schoon then outlined the two steps in the demolition review process including whether the property has 21 architectural or historical significance requiring an H AIS with the most common being there is sufficient merit
22 warranting an H AIS. He stated staff provided wording for recommendations in the staff report and at the end of 23 the discussion, a motion can be made to require an H AIS as outlined on page 3 of the staff report or a motion to 24 find the site does not have sufficient merit to warrant an H AIS and a demolition can be issued without delay. Mr.
25 Schoon stated the wording for motions can be prepared and included in the agenda report to assist the 26 Commission in being more succinct.

27
28 Mr. Schoon then outlined the process the Commission considers for properties including a preliminary property
29 history review and information from the Historical Society. He stated for this meeting, the goal is to determine if 30 there is sufficient information to warrant further exploration and confirmation that a property is architecturally or 31 historically significant requiring an H AIS. He referred to the questions the Commission typically raised in the 32 process including whether the property is historically or architecturally significant and asking the applicant their 33 plans for the plans, how long was it listed, whether it would have a deep basement, etc. Mr. Schoon suggested the 34 Commission think about the questions being focused on the property's historical and architectural significance,
35 plans for the property and how an applicant can be convinced to preserve the home and for any questions beyond
36 that scope, they should be prefaced as curious questions noting they went beyond the Commission's purview. He 37 then asked for any comments.

38
39 Mr. Weaver stated the Commission has few tools to do anything and described the Commission as being in a tough
40 position of trying to save homes in the community with the Village having lax rules in terms of the ability to take 41 down homes. He commented Mr. Schoon raised good points but the Commission is frustrated with the amount of 42 demolitions. Mr. Schoon agreed with Mr. Weaver and described the last meeting as a good example of the 43 Commission asking the applicant to identify their needs and why the home cannot be reused. He noted the 44 Commission's only tool is to ask an applicant to reconsider for 60 days and referred to tonight's application which 45 included neighbors' testimony. Mr. Schoon then stated the issues being raised by the Commission are important
46 but are outside of their purview and suggested the Commission focus on items within their purview.

47
48 Mr. Coladarci asked if they received complaints about the demolition review process and Mr. Schoon responded
49 although some complaints are made regarding the tone of the conversations, this is the Village staff's observation.
50 Mr. Coladarci referred to subsection (b) on page 8 of the agenda packet and questioned who has final approval of 51 a demolition permit. Mr. Schuster stated it is an administrative decision to make sure all of the requirements have 52 been met including review by this Commission. Mr. Coladarci referred to the caucus question regarding the 53 amount of teardowns and to slow the process down and the inability of the Commission to stop the process. Mr.

1 Schuster stated Mr. Schoon described it correctly and responded the question is how does the Commission
2 sharpen the tools they do have and the Commission's mission can be honed by focusing on what they are trying to
3 do such as consideration of the home's architectural features and educating the neighbors. He then stated for the 4 Commission to get into asking questions beyond its purview such as storm water which do not relate to the
5 historical nature of the property, they do not serve to hone in on the points which help the Commission
6 accomplish their mission. Mr. Schuster added there is also a legal issue such as the carrying costs for delaying the 7 process by 60 days. Mr. Coladarci stated a strong argument was made for preservation with tonight's application
8 without bringing up issues such as storm water. He referred to the Village staff complaining the Commission is 9 making their jobs harder and he is not suggesting the Commission do anything illegal but they are attempting to 10 protect property and preserve the look of the Village.

12 Mr. Schoon confirmed that is not the case and noted the staff issues the demolition permit and the Commission is 13 to determine whether or not the property is historically or architectural significant and whether a delay should be 14 issued for the demolition permit. He then identified the other permits which need to be taken care of before a
15 demolition permit is issued. Mr. Schoon also stated according to the code, a demolition can be delayed for other 16 reasons which he identified. Mudroom Coladarci agreed the Village staff is doing an excellent job and the 17 Commission's job is to protect the Village's historic nature with the tools they have.

19 Ms. Holland agreed the Commission did not have the tools they need and referred to the matrix put together by 20 Ms. Papoutsis. She identified the attempts the Commission has made to increase awareness with regard to 21 preservation and education. Ms. Holland also stated the 60 day delay is not enough especially for developers
22 compared to that of other villages. She then described the one success they had in asking an applicant to save the 23 façade of a home on Whitebridge Hill. Ms. Holland added she hoped Mr. Marzec can find an architect to work with 24 the home as opposed to tearing it down. She also referred to the Commission's attempts to discuss the matter
25 with President Rintz. Ms. Holland described the situation as frustrating and stated nothing can be done without 26 changes to the ordinance.

27
28 Mr. Schoon informed the Commission the staff understood their frustration and the purpose of the discussion is to 29 go over training and the Commission's authority and duties as has been done with the other Boards and 30 Commissions. He then referred to the actions taken by the Commission at tonight's meeting. Mr. Schoon then 31 stated Mr. Schuster would discuss the legal issues with regard to the conduct of meetings.

32
33 Mr. Schuster then referred to his PowerPoint presentation where he discussed three topics including the Open
34 Meetings Act ("OMA"), procedures for conducting meetings and the Freedom of Information Act ("FOIA"). He 35 noted a challenge can be made if compliance is not made with the law. Mr. Schuster then identified the definition
36 of the OMA which includes gatherings where there is a quorum where matters of the public body are discussed.
37 He indicated a violation of OMA also includes "replying to all" in emails resulting in an unintended meeting. Mr.
38 Schuster then identified the rules for the OMA which went into the effect as a result of the pandemic. He stated
39 the OMA required an agenda and outlined the rules. Mr. Schuster also stated the OMA required the opportunity
40 for public comment. Mr. Schuster noted the OMA required training of the Commission and identified the legal 41 ramifications for noncompliance.

42
43 Mr. Schuster identified the procedures for conducting meetings including a vote being required as well as 44 identifying the rules governing the meeting. He noted in accordance with the Robert's Rules of Order, he identified
45 the rules regarding motions. He then asked if there were any questions. No questions were raised at this time.

46
47 Mr. Schuster then stated the last item related to the FOIA and identified the factors relating to FOIA such as public 48 records including paper files, electronic communication, etc. He referred to the 2013 case of City of Champaign v.
49 Madigan where emails were sent internally during a meeting and which were determined to be a matter of public
50 record. Mr. Schuster advised the Commission Members to be careful what is put into messages in the event it is 51 made public. He then identified the penalties involved with FOIA violations. Mr. Schuster asked if there were any 52 questions.
53

1 Mr. Coladarci and Mr. Enck raised instances of discussion between two Commission Members and Mr. Schuster
2 stated for the Commission to only be concerned with items which may be coming up on the agenda. He informed
3 the Commission a demolition application coming before the Commission is not a public hearing and they can
4 suggest that those people wanting to talk attend the meeting. Mr. Schuster also stated for those Commission
5 Members serving on other bodies, you are not speaking on behalf of that body but individually. He informed the 6 Commission to contact him or Mr. Schoon with additional questions.

FINDINGS:

Our research indicates that this property does have architectural significance, as well as historical significance on the local level. The original architect of the property was John Van Bergen, a prominent architect well-known for his Prairie School designs. Van Bergen was a former assistant for Frank Lloyd Wright, who heavily influenced many of Van Bergen's designs (including the property at 1015 Starr). Van Bergen became the last employee Wright ever hired to work with him at his Oak Park studio. The property at 1015 Starr is quintessential example of Van Bergen's Prairie School style design, particularly in terms of proportions and in his use of stonework on the exterior.

In addition, this property has been home to several prominent and longtime Winnetka residents. Most notably, this property was built for Eugene and Clara Rummler. In addition to working as a patent attorney at Rummler, Rummler, and Snow in Chicago, Eugene Rummler was an active member of the Winnetka community whose work significantly influenced the Village's development throughout the 20th century. Specifically, Rummler was one of the early Presidents of the Village, serving in the position from 1915 to 1917. In addition, Rummler was a Village of Winnetka Trustee, Chairman of the Winnetka Zoning Committee, Chairman of the Winnetka Plan Commission in 1943, and President of the Board of the Winnetka Historical Society.

John Van Bergen

John S. Van Bergen (1885-1969)

Biography

John Shellette Van Bergen was born in Oak Park, Illinois. As a young man he worked for an uncle who was a speculative residential contractor. He became interested in architecture, and, through family connections was hired as an apprentice by Walter Burley Griffin. Griffin had worked for Frank Lloyd Wright's before starting his own practice in 1905. Van Bergen studied for the architecture license examination at the Chicago Technical College, and, in 1909, was the last employee hired by Frank Lloyd Wright at his Oak Park Studio. Van Bergen was licensed in 1911 and opened his first office in Oak Park. His early projects, mostly in Oak Park, were predominantly residential and largely in the style of the Prairie School, which he learned in Griffin's and Wright's studios.

For these private homes, his designs expressed the casual side of prairie architecture through his selection of material, roof lines, or detailing.

He did his World War I at Fort Sheridan where he worked on the conversion of existing buildings into hospitals. After his discharge in 1919, he married, settled in Ravinia and resumed his practice. He lived in Highland Park for 26 years and did some of his best work here. His wife, Ruth was the office and business manager for the practice.

Besides raising their two daughters in Highland Park, the Van Bergens were active in the community. He was on the Buildings and Grounds Committee for School District 108, he founded the organization, "The Friends of Our Native Landscape" with his neighbor and friend, Jens Jensen and his wife was active in the garden club.

At the end of the Second World War they sold their home in Highland Park and moved to a rural area in Hawthorne Woods; later they moved to Lake Barrington. His private architectural practice was slowing considerably, largely due to the boom of mass produced tract housing that was fueled by the needs of returning veteran. Although this was not Van Bergen's primary interest, he became in essence, a small developer, buying large tracts of land, subdividing and selling the lots, sometimes with a home of his own design.

In 1955 the Van Bergens moved just outside of Santa Barbara, California. His younger brother and sister, whom he had persuaded to move to Highland Park in the Twenties, had already moved to California. This time it was older brother's John turn to move to be near them. Van Bergen's architecture practice continued, on a diminished scale in California. Again, he augmented it by subdividing tracts of land for residential development. Tragedy occurred in 1964. His home and studio were destroyed in a wildfire and he lost virtually all his drawings and other records of his 44 years as a designer. They rebuilt their home, but after a series of strokes, John Van Bergen died in 1969 at the age of 84.

Significance

Until recently, Van Bergen has primarily been known as an assistant to Frank Lloyd Wright, and the one who was left to wrap up the practice and complete the projects under construction in 1909 when Wright eloped with Mamah Cheney. In recent years there has been a re-evaluation of the Prairie School and Van Bergen's stature as a major architect has emerged.

Marion Mahoney Griffin, who also worked for Wright at that time, wrote in her autobiography:

"The enthusiastic and able young men as proved in their later work were doubtless as influential in the office later as were these early ones but Wright's early concentration on publicity and his claims that everybody was his disciple had a deadening influence on the Chicago group."

The Prairie School is usually thought to have ended before World War 1. Not true. Van Bergen continued to design in the Prairie Style throughout the 1920's and well into the Thirties and he did some of his best work in this period. By this time the automobile is a part of suburban life and Van Bergen's designs started to include attached garages. This is an example of how he strove to keep up with technology and meet his clients' needs

His house and studio, which he built at 234 Cedar Street in 1920, is a fine example of his approach to the prairie style. Van Bergen and the landscape architect Jens Jensen were neighbors. The older Jensen became a mentor to Van Bergen and collaborated on several projects. Van Bergen was inspired by Jensen's love of the area's indigenous prairie setting and he created buildings that were harmonious with their natural surroundings.

Van Bergen designed Braeside School (one of the few Prairie designed schools ever built) in 1927 and an addition ten years later. He regarded it as his masterwork.

Unlike many important architects, Van Bergen is not known for designing mansions or tall buildings. Instead his best works are schools and a series of modestly sized, single family homes. His work shows that brilliant, innovative design can accompany affordability and livability. His excellent sense of proportion and use of stratified stonework resulted in structures, which are so visually striking that they are often mistaken for the work of better known Prairie architects. The importance of Van Bergen's work is just beginning to be appreciated and Highland Park is fortunate to have so many good examples of his mature style.

In Bloomington, Illinois Jen Jensen introduced Van Bergen to the Spencer Ewings who had commissioned Jensen to landscape their new and as yet undesigned house. They subsequently retained Van Bergen to design a complementary residence, and while the first design was rejected as too elaborate, the second design was built in 1920.<sup>41</sup> The lower floor of this home, similar in plan to the large Van Bergen houses of the first decade, is clad up to the second floor sill line in rough-cut limestone. Rather than stucco above the stonework, Van Bergen used glazed mosaic ceramic tiles of random size and pattern. The cornice and concealed gutters are decorated with a continuous carved pattern, a sort of prairie egg and dart device. The natural tones blend quietly into Jensen's meadow and vista to the prairie pool at the rear of the deep site.

Van Bergen began three school complexes towards the end of his second decade of practice. Two of them are alike and both bear a loose resemblance to the 1915 Rogers farm residence project. In 1927 Van Bergen began construction of the Braeside School just a few blocks from his Ravinia home on the edge of a steep and twisting ravine. The front elevation of the building is low, two story, and symmetrical. In the rear, however, the grade drops away and the facade becomes asymmetric and four stories in height. The workshops, auditorium, and gymnasium located on the rear elevation open directly onto the ravine through unusually tall and wide windows. The front of the school has the by now typical buff stucco above the limestone base while the rear is composed entirely of limestone. It is dominated by a chimney mass which rises from the ravine floor to above the top ridge line without interruption. Complementary additions were made to the building by Van Bergen in 1930 and again in 1934.

The year after the Braeside school was under way, planning for the Chicago Junior School was begun for a sixty acre site near Elgin, Illinois. Loosely affiliated with the Christian Science Church as a boarding school for underprivileged city children, it involved Van Bergen until 1950 and eventually provided facilities for one hundred students. All of the buildings were designed by Van Bergen with the help of Lawrence Buck and remain faithful to the prairie naturalism. To a certain extent different parts of this complex remind one alternately of Wright's designs at Spring Green and the Griffin work at Rock Crest/Rock Glen. A superintendent's residence office and a classroom building were the first completed in 1929 and the fieldhouse was occupied in 1937. Over the following years a dining hall and kitchen, classroom and administration building, and four dormitory buildings were added. On this project Van Bergen states that he paid particular attention to the site plan and landscaping of the gently rolling and wooded grounds, but Jens Jensen has also been credited with the grounds of the Chicago Junior School.<sup>42</sup> years should be noted in passing. Not many are as lavish in materials or finishing as the 1926 C. R. Erwin residence. The feeling is totally different in the home Erwin built for his daughter adjoining his own home in 1927. Van Bergen used white horizontal board and battens on a design which otherwise would have complemented the father's house. More typical are the designs of the 1925 Wilson Kline residence, Van Bergen's own home and studio of 1927, the 1925 E. A. Rummler residence, and the 1940 Harold Klock residence.<sup>43</sup> The last is perhaps the most satisfying of the homes of the middle period.

a building exceptional. He was mindful of upkeep and often used only exterior wood stains that required little care and no painting. He invented helpful gimmicks such as through-the-wall 'window box waterers', special builtin furniture such as a dresser opening into both the bedroom and the adjacent bathroom,<sup>44</sup> and an interior casement screen lock for which he lost the patent to a large window manufacturer.<sup>45</sup> Van Bergen often designed furniture for his residences and especially did so for his own studio-residences throughout the years.<sup>46</sup>

As Van Bergen's practice was always small, he never had a large staff helping him. During busy times he would have at the most two part time draftsmen.<sup>47</sup> He often found the same resistance to his designs as did Wright, for the Highland Park banks in several instances would not advance the full loan amount on his designs. To help offset this situation, Van Bergen occasionally and unethically served as his own general contractor, charging a flat ten-percent fee for the entire design-build package.<sup>48</sup>

Van Bergen lost several good commissions during his career. Among these were the Com-

<sup>47</sup> Charles Ellwood worked for Van Bergen until the Oak Park office was closed in 1918. He rendered many of the early designed illustrated in The Western Architect. Ellwood eventually moved to Minneapolis, Minnesota where he built a residence that Van Bergen designed during his first decade. Lawrence Buck, a friend and architect from Ravinia worked for Van Bergen during 1925 to 1930. Charles Masterson, who remained in contact with the Van Bergens, worked off and on with Van Bergen from 1922 to 1955. In addition E. E. Roberts helped out in the office during the Oak Park years and John's brother Frank was often recruited to help in the drafting room.

Van Bergen's architecture radically changed after 1950 once he had relocated first to Hawthorn Woods, later to Barrington Hills, and finally in 1955 to Santa Barbara, California. No longer limited by the relatively small lots of the north suburbs, his house plans were free to spread out across the flatlands as rambling, one story designs with flat roofs and concrete floors with radiant heating.<sup>50</sup> In effect he forsook the stylistic devices of his prairie naturalism and substituted (at this late date) the details and forms of the International Style. he continued to use stratified limestone he more often employed white stucco or common brick exclusively on his exteriors with punched openings and unadorned surfaces.

With his health weakened during the last two decades of his career, Van Bergen's output slowed. From 1950 to 1969 he produced only fifteen designs, done after he had relocated to California.

Hopefully this study will bring the work of John Van Bergen into better focus. Since he was almost alone in working in the prairie style in the Chicago area from 1910 to 1950, his work has been isolated and consequently overlooked. While the early years have received some attention, it is the unrecognized prolific middle years that are of great credit to this loner.

In return for room and board, Jim served the clergy their meals. Jim was a member of Pi Alpha Lambda Fraternity. Many of those friendships still remained until the last day of his life. While attending Loyola, Jim met and later married his wife, Sandra. They married in 1962, 43 years ago while he was attending night school at Loyola Law School. James Roman Snider, born in Fremont, Ohio on June 2, 1936 to Walter and Bertha Snider; dear brother to Patricia (Robert) Schumm, Dr. Thomas (Judy) Snider, the late Richard (Delores) Snider and Frederick Snider. In 1954 Jim left Ohio to attend Loyola University in Chicago. His uncle, the late Rev. Roman Weltin, S.J. who was on the faculty of St. Ignatius High School, found housing for Jim at St. Ignatius Parish in Rogers Park in a room above the gymnasium. In return for room and board, Jim served the clergy their meals. Jim was a member of Pi Alpha Lambda Fraternity. Many of those friendships still remained until the last day of his life. While attending Loyola, Jim met and later married his wife, Sandra. They married in 1962, 43 years ago while he was attending night school at Loyola Law School. His greatest legacy is his children: Mark (Kristin) Snider, Susan (John) Joyce and Diana (David) O'Brien. He will be truly missed by his eight grandchildren, Alex, Davis and Megan Snider, Jack, Joe and Jamie Joyce, and Julia and Patrick O'Brien. His practice of law for 37 years introduced him to many wonderful people who he remained friends with throughout his life. His focus was mainly on Real Estate and Franchise Law. He represented Century 21 Northern Illinois, the Village of Niles, Hispanic Housing Development Corporation, Barnaby's Restaurants, the Comptroller of Illinois, the Cook County Public Guardian, the Cook County Department of Registration and Education, and was Special Assistant to the Attorney General of Illinois. Jim also represented many successful small businessmen. Jim was a Director at Labe Savings and Loan, serving as a board member and loan officer for close to 30 years. Jim's love of life, love of the Democratic Party, love of the Cubs, and love of his family and friends will always be remembered. It is a tremendous loss to lose someone so young and so special to so many people. He was a great Dad, a great Husband, a great Grandpa "Pappa", and a great friend. We'll miss his enthusiasm for life. He fought a brave and courageous fight against his lung cancer. He never complained or felt sorry for himself. Whenever someone would be sympathetic towards him, he would say, "You play the cards that are dealt to you". His strong religious upbringing gave him this strength. We wanted him here longer and he, too, wanted to be here, at least a little while longer, but only with quality to his being. We will miss you, Jim. Jim passed away at home, Monday, Aug. 15, 2005. Visitation Thursday 4 p.m. to 8 p.m. at Donnellan Family Funeral Home, 10045 Skokie Blvd. at Old Orchard Road, Skokie. Funeral Mass on Friday at 9:30 a.m. at SS. Faith, Hope & Charity, 191 Linden Street, Winnetka. Interment Memorial Park Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, memorials may be made in care of Dr. Philip Bonomi for his lung cancer research, 1700 W. Van Buren, Suite 250, Chicago, IL 60612.

RESEARCH SOURCES USED:

Winnetka Talk, Chicago Tribune, property files, historic phone books, Google search

FINDINGS:

Our research indicates that this property does not have historical significance, but does have architectural significance. The original architect of the property, William Aitken, was a well-known builder of several notable homes on the North Shore. He was the founder of the Village of Bannockburn and built many of the first homes there. In Winnetka, Aitken designed and built the Aitken building on the corner of Green Bay Road and Gage Street, as well as the home at 500 Maple, a Winnetka Designated Landmark. Aitken also designed and built the home at 671 Lincoln, where the popular movie “Home Alone” was filmed. The colonial property at 1423 Asbury is a typical example of Aitken’s style for homes on the North Shore.

1423 ASBURY AVE. WINNETKA.

There is something so obviously fascinating about a house of this kind that any attempt to emphasize its attractiveness seems almost unnecessary. The style and plan of such houses do not become out of date and they continue indefinitely to meet the requirements of the average sized family.

LOCATION: Almost directly west from the Hubbard Woods Station (about six blocks) in a beautiful section of Winnetka and surrounded by other attractive homes with well kept lawns and parkways.

159.17
GROUND: 75 ft. frontage by 187 ft. depth provides ample room for the ornamental landscaping which contributes so much towards making this place one of outstanding beauty. The driveway along the east side of the house leads straight back to a two car garage on the rear of the lot.

CONSTRUCTION: The excellent physical condition indicates very clearly that nothing but the best of material and workmanship were utilized in building this house. The interior and exterior harmonize perfectly and evince refinement and good taste.

FIRST FLOOR: A very pleasant sun room adjoins the living room on the west and the dining room and kitchen are bright and cheerful.

SECOND FLOOR: There are three bedrooms all of ample size and one bath. An additional bath could easily be added if desired.

The Price is $13,500.00.

COMMISSION REVIEW

In making its determination regarding the historical and architectural impact of the subject property, the Landmark Preservation Commission shall consider the following:

- the historic and architectural impact study prepared pursuant to the foregoing Section 15.52.050;
- the preliminary property history study prepared pursuant to Section 15.52.040;

- c. comments of the Winnetka Historical Society on the application and study; and
- d. any other information, comment or evidence received by the Commission at the impact determination meeting or at the preliminary review meeting.

Prior to making a determination, the Commission must first determine if it finds the Historical Architectural Impact Study (HAIS) complete. If the LPC determines that the HAIS filed by the Applicant is incomplete or otherwise insufficient to enable the LPC to make a determination as to the impact of the proposed demolition, the LPC may direct the Applicant to complete, amend or supplement the report and may continue the impact determination meeting pending the Applicant's filing of a complete application.

If the Commission does find the HAIS complete, a Commission member may make one of the two following motions (a) Demolition Without Delay or (b) Delay of Demolition:

Demolition Without Delay

I make a motion finding that the Historical Architectural Impact Study (HAIS) for 644 Pine Lane prepared by Jean L. Guarino, Ph.D. is complete and that the proposed demolition will not have a significant negative architectural or historical impact on either the Village as a whole or on the immediate neighborhood.

Based upon these findings, the demolition may proceed without a delay.

Delay of Demolition

I make a motion finding that the Historical Architectural Impact Study (HAIS) for 644 Pine Lane prepared by Jean L. Guarino, Ph.D. is complete and that the building or structure is considered to be historically or architecturally significant as it meets one or more of the following standards [Commission member should note which of the following standards should be included in the motion]:

- (1) the structure exhibits a high quality of architectural design without regard to the time built or historic associations;
- (2) the structure exhibits a high quality of architectural design that is not the result of a change or a series of changes in the original structure;
- (3) the structure exemplifies an architectural style, construction technique or building type once common in the Village;
- (4) the structure exhibits an unusual, distinctive or eccentric design or construction technique that contributes to the architectural interest of its environs as an accent or counterpart; or
- (5) that the property has been designated a landmark pursuant to Chapter 15.64 of the Village Code, has been included in the most recent Illinois Historic Structure Survey conducted under the auspices of the Illinois Department of Conservation, or has been listed on the National Register of Historic Places or the Illinois Register of Historic Places.

The Commission also finds that the proposed demolition will have a significant negative architectural or historical impact on either the Village as a whole or on the immediate neighborhood due to the following architecturally or historically significant aspects of the structure:

- 1. [Commission member to fill in]

2. _____ -

Preservation alternatives to the demolition of the structure include:

1. *[Commission member to fill in].

The Commission continues to encourage interest in and understanding of preservation in the whole of the Village as it may be applicable to the demolition permit request under review and to encourage and provide means of communication and exchange of views between the applicants and the owners and occupants of properties within two hundred fifty (250) feet of the subject property.

Based upon these finding, the demolition must be delayed for a period of 60 days in order to explore alternatives to total demolition.

Synopsis of Findings of Significance

The McPherson House at 644 Pine Lane has local and statewide architectural significance as a distinctive residential design with excellent integrity by the firm Clark and Walcott, headed by partners Edwin H. Clark and Chester H. Walcott. These esteemed architects specialized in high-style residential work, designing many houses on the North Shore and in Winnetka. The importance of their projects was recognized in their lifetime: sketches, plans, and photos of their work together, practicing alone, or in partnership with others, were regularly published in national magazines/journals and in the popular press. The house also possesses local architectural significance as a unique example of a Colonial Revival style house with Shingle style elements. It was determined that the house does not possess historic significance at a local, statewide, or national level. Several of its historic (pre-1970) owners were members of old and distinguished Chicago families and/or were well-respected in their fields. None, however, were found to merit individual distinction. No information was found relating the house to an historic event.

It was not possible to undertake Tract Book research for this property as the Cook County Recorder of Deeds Office is currently (September 2020) closed due to the coronavirus. As a result, the chain of ownership was ascertained by reviewing a range of sources, including building permits, contemporary newspaper articles, phone directories, and documentation in the building file for 644 Pine Lane at the Winnetka Village Hall. Biographical information on the historic (pre-1970) owners of this property is shown below.

Donald F. McPherson and Frances (“Fanny”) Ogden (West) McPherson

Donald Fraser McPherson (1884-1944) was born in Buffalo, New York, the son of Dr. Donald McPherson and Adelaide (Gowans) McPherson. His mother was a member of an old New York family. Donald was educated in Lausanne, Switzerland, and at a school in Lawrenceville, New Jersey. He graduated from Princeton University in 1906, studied law at Harvard University, and moved to Chicago in 1908, entering the law firm of Holt, Wheeler, & Sidley as a clerk. Donald completed his law studies at Northwestern University in 1909, the year he was admitted to the Illinois Bar.<sup>1</sup> Upon moving to Chicago, he lived with the family of his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holt, at 1836 Calumet Avenue in the city’s prestigious “Gold Coast” neighborhood on the South Side. Other family members in Chicago included another uncle, Dr. McPherson, who was a pastor at the nearby Second Presbyterian Church at 1936 S. Michigan Avenue.<sup>2</sup>

Donald McPherson's employer was renamed Holt, Cutting & Sidley in 1913. The firm had nine lawyers in 1916 and their clients included many of Chicago's largest businesses, including Pullman, Western Electric, and Illinois Steel. Their offices moved from the Tacoma Building to the Roanoke Building, in Chicago's Loop, in 1920.<sup>3</sup> Donald remained with this law firm for the rest of his career, specializing in corporation law. He eventually became a partner in the renamed Sidley, McPherson, Austin & Burgess. This was the predecessor of today's Sidley and Austin.

Donald McPherson married Frances ("Fanny") Ogden West (1888-1964) on January 29, 1914 at St. James Episcopal Church in Chicago. She was the oldest daughter of Frederick and Anna (Ogden) West of 68 East Division Street in Chicago. Frederick West, a leader of business and civic affairs in the city, belonged to a family prominent for over a century in Pittsfield, Massachusetts, where the Wests maintained a summer estate called Court Hill. Frances attended a school in Cambridge, Massachusetts, that was operated by Chicagoans (identified as the "Misses Kelly") and then to "Miss Nixon's school" in Florence, Italy.<sup>4</sup>

Frances Ogden McPherson was a member of one of Chicago's oldest and most distinguished families. Her maternal great-uncle, William B. Ogden, was elected Chicago's first mayor in 1837. Her grandfather, Mahlon Ogden, pursued a successful career as an attorney in Chicago and later became a judge. His impressive residence on the square block site now occupied by the Newberry Library was one of the few on the North Side to survive the Chicago Fire of 1871.<sup>5</sup>

Donald and Frances McPherson had three children: Frances Ogden (b. 1915-1961), Donald F. Jr. (1918-1991), and Sally Ann (1925-2018). Donald served as a captain in the U.S. Army during World War I. In December 1919, the couple purchased a stone mansion at 32 Bellevue Place in Chicago from Edward Ryerson for $18,000.<sup>6</sup>

The McPhersons acquired a 3.5-acre parcel on Pine Lane in the Winnetka Heights subdivision, presumably in 1922, the year they hired the architecture firm of Clark and Walcott to design a house costing an estimated $25,000, which served as their primary residence over the next twenty years.<sup>7</sup> The parcel extended westward to Hibbard Road. Over the next 15 years the couple expanded the house with a one-story north wing, a coach house, and an in-ground swimming pool with pool house, all designed by Edwin Clark following the dissolution of his partnership with Chester Walcott. It appears that the McPhersons also maintained a city residence, at least during the early years of their marriage. A 1924 notice in the Chicago Tribune's society pages identified their address as 1306 Astor Street.<sup>8</sup>

Frances McPherson and her children typically spent summers at her parents' Court Hill estate in Pittsfield, which she purchased in 1938 from the estate of her mother, who died in 1936. The property had been in the family fifty years and was described by one contemporary writer as the "one of the loveliest places in the Berkshires."<sup>9</sup>

The McPherson's oldest daughter, Fanny, made her debut at a tea dance held in the family's Pine Lane home in September 1934. She had spent the winter before her debut at Miss Nixon's school in Florence, Italy, and before that, she attended Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield. Fanny married Thomas S. Tyler on October 17, 1936, and the reception was held at her parent's Winnetka home.<sup>10</sup> Five years later, she obtained a divorce in Reno, Nevada, on grounds of cruelty.<sup>11</sup> She married Willard Drown—who was also a divorcee—in March 1942 in the Winnetka home of her parents, with only their families present.<sup>12</sup> The McPherson's younger daughter, Sally Ann, also attended Miss Hall's School in Pittsfield and she graduated from Miss Porter's School in Farmington, Connecticut.<sup>13</sup>

In the 1940 census, Donald and Frances McPherson identified their primary address as 1500 Lake Shore Drive, where they lived with two servants. Donald McPherson listed 644 Pine Lane as his primary address on his World War II draft registration card, which was dated April 27, 1942. The couple sold their Winnetka home in 1942 to Ralph and Eleanor Isham, who were family friends, and moved to an apartment at 1430 Lake Shore Drive in Chicago. Donald McPherson died at home on March 17, 1944 at the age of 59, following a long illness. During his lifetime he was active in many civic organizations and served for two years as president of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations. In Winnetka he was a member of the village council.<sup>14</sup>

Sally Ann McPherson married George S. Isham at her mother's Court Hill estate in Pittsfield on September 7, 1946.<sup>15</sup> He was the nephew of Ralph Isham, who purchased her parent's house at

644 Pine Lane four years earlier. One writer noted that the marriage “will link two families which have been friends through four generations—ever since Chicago’s earliest days.”<sup>16</sup> The grandparents of Frances McPherson (Mahlon Ogden and wife) and of Ralph Isham (Dr. Ralph Isham and wife) both maintained residences on the 900 block of North Dearborn Street in the 1870s and 1880s.<sup>17</sup>

Frances McPherson remained active in Chicago’s social circles over the next decade. She served as president of the English Speaking Union during the 1950s, and in 1957 she received an Order of the British Empire award from Sir Harold Caccia, British ambassador to the United States.<sup>18</sup> She died in March 1964 at the age of 75 in her Chicago home, a vintage highrise at 1320 N. State Parkway.<sup>19</sup>

Ralph N. and Eleanor (Dennehy) Isham

Ralph N. Isham (1901-1976) was a member of two of Chicago’s distinguished early families: the Ishams and the Porters. He was named after his paternal grandfather, Dr. Ralph Nelson Isham (1831-1904), who in 1859 joined with others in the organization of Lind University, now known as the Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine.<sup>20</sup> Dr. Isham was a well-known teacher and surgeon. Ralph’s father was Dr. George S. Isham (1859-1926), a leading Chicago physician for forty years who also specialized in surgery. His mother, Katherine (Porter) Isham (1866-1917), was the daughter of Henry H. Porter (1835-1910), who served as chairman of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad and was a founder of the U.S. Steel Corporation.<sup>21</sup>

Ralph was raised in the Isham family mansion at 1340 N. State Parkway (built 1899), which was commissioned by his father, George, and designed by James Gamble Rogers. (This residence became known as the Playboy mansion in the 1960s when it was owned by Hugh Hefner.) The 1910 census shows that he resided there with his parents, older brother Henry P. (b. 1895), sister Helen (b. 1904), and nine servants. Ralph’s mother, Katherine, died in their home on April 28, 1917 of an undisclosed illness “lasting only a day.”<sup>22</sup> She was widely known as a leader in civic and philanthropic work.

Ralph Isham graduated from Yale University in 1924. He left the family residence two years after his father’s unexpected death at the age of 66, moving to a nearby residence at 70 E. Cedar Street.<sup>23</sup> Ralph was an early aviation enthusiast, commuting from Lake Geneva to Chicago in his own propeller plane in the 1920s. He was arrested in 1930 on charge of flying too low—just 25

Ralph Isham and Eleanor Dennehy (1908-1989) were married on February 25, 1933. She was the daughter of Thomas C. and Virginie (Inderrieden) Dennehy who maintained a residence at 1439 North State Parkway. The couple had a large family and Eleanor was one of seven children.<sup>26</sup> The Dennehy family also maintained a sprawling house on a ten-acre estate in Winnetka that served as their summer residence. The property at 1231 North Avenue (later renamed Tower Road) was acquired by Thomas C. Dennehy in 1905 and is identified on historic maps as “Dennehy’s Consolidation.” The family house on this property burned down sometime in the late 1930s and the site was sold to C.A. Hemphill and Associates in 1939, becoming the Forest Glen Subdivision with 38 houses.<sup>27</sup>

Eleanor’s father, Thomas C. Dennehy, was prominent for many years in the distilling business and later in the real estate field. He was associated with his father in Charles Denney & Co. and in the Clear Springs Distilling Company, with distilleries in Kentucky. With the enactment of Prohibition, he turned his attention to real estate. He was the owner of several downtown properties, including the Petroleum Building at 616 S. Michigan Avenue.<sup>28</sup>

Ralph and Eleanor Isham had two daughters: Eleanor Dennehy Isham (b.1936) and Katherine Porter Isham (b. 1939). The family lived with two servants in a luxury apartment building at 1430 Lake Shore Drive prior to purchasing the house at 644 Pine Lane in 1942, where they resided through the end of the decade. The Isham family subsequently moved to a house in Lake Forest, where they hosted debutante festivities and engagement parties for their daughters.<sup>29</sup>

Harold and Margaret (Peet) Nutting

Harold Nutting was born in Oak Park. He began his lifelong career with Marshall Fields & Company immediately after graduating from the University of Michigan in 1924, initially working as a clerk selling shirts. Within a short time, he became an assistant buyer, buyer, and in 1936 he became merchandise manager for the accessories' division of Fields' Chicago and suburban stores.<sup>31</sup>

Harold Nutting married Margaret Peet—a native of Ypsilanti, Michigan—in 1923. The couple had four sons: Charles (b. 1925), William (b. 1927), David (b. 1931), and John (b. 1940).<sup>32</sup> The Nutting family lived in River Forest for over 25 years, first in a house at 726 Monroe Street. In 1938 they purchased and renovated a large house at 747 Keystone, where they resided with a maid.<sup>33</sup>

The Nuttings moved to Winnetka in 1949 or 1950, the year they purchased the house at 644 Pine Lane. Margaret regularly hosted garden walks on her sprawling property as described by one writer in 1950: “At the Harold J. Nuttings’ colonial yellow brick home an azure blue swimming pool, sweeping lawns and a walled garden—its flowers presenting a riot of color—are stunning attractions.”<sup>34</sup> The couple were members of the Winnetka Congregational Church and Harold was a director of the North Shore County Day School. He was also a member of the Chicago, Commercial, Commonwealth, University, and Executives Clubs, and of Old Elm and the Indian Hill Country Clubs.

Harold Nutting ascended the executive ranks of Marshall Fields & Company over the years. He became general merchandising manager in 1944, a vice president in 1946, and general manager of the company’s Chicago and suburban stores division in 1948. He was elected to the board of directors in 1953 and became executive vice president and general manager of the company in 1954. He retired from Field’s in 1959 at the age of 56 for personal reasons, stating at the time that he had plans to become active in several business and civic ventures.<sup>35</sup>

In December 1961, Nutting subdivided his 644 Pine Lane property into three lots. He retained Lots 1 and 2, which included the house, coach house, swimming pool and bath house, and sold Lot 3, which fronts Hibbard Road.

Harold Nutting subsequently became chairman and chief executive officer of Overseas Industries, Inc., an export-import firm, and chairman of Thomas Moulding Brick Company. He also served as chairman of the board of trustees of Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital and was named first vice president of the Young Men's Christian Association (YMCA) of Metropolitan Chicago on January 23, 1962. He died in his Pine Lane home in March 1962 at the age of 59.<sup>36</sup> Margaret Nutting died in September of that year at the age of 58.<sup>37</sup>

Charles L. and Alice "Patty" Harper

Charles L. Harper (1930-2016) grew up in Winnetka, the son of Harvey M. and Margaret (Little) Harper. He was raised with two brothers in a house at 1010 Indian Hill Road that was built for the Harper family in 1936 from plans by architect Ralph D. Huszagh.<sup>38</sup> His father, Harvey, founded the H.M. Harper company in 1923, which manufactured non-corrosive nuts and bolts and stainless steel parts.<sup>39</sup> Charles attended the Hotchkiss School in Connecticut and graduated from Princeton University in 1952 with a degree in engineering. He was a rower in the Princeton crew team that took second place in the U.S. Olympic trials to Navy, the boat that won gold for the USA in Helsinki in 1952. Charles remained an avid sportsman, sailor, and outdoor enthusiast throughout his life. After college, he was commissioned in the U.S. Navy, serving from 1952-54 in the Arctic and Mediterranean.<sup>40</sup>

In 1955, Charles L. Harper married Alice "Patty" Fall (1931-2004), who was also a Winnetka native. Patty was the daughter of J. Horton and Alice F. Fall, who lived in Hubbard Woods. She attended the Mary C. Wheeler school in Providence, Rhode Island, and graduated from Rockford College.<sup>41</sup> Charles and Patty Harper lived in Glencoe prior to purchasing the house at 644 Pine Lane in 1962, where they raised six children: Charles, Margaret, Greta, Alice, Serena, and Paisley.<sup>42</sup>

Harper Company, which built a new plant in Morton Grove in 1962.<sup>43</sup> He eventually rose to the position of president in 1978, following nearly a quarter century with the company. Charles and Patty Harper relocated to Houston in 1981, when Charles accepted a vice president position with American Car and Foundry, managing a division that produced high-tech subsea valves and related products for the offshore oil industry worldwide. They remained in Houston until Patty's death in 2003. Charles married Patty's youngest sister, Margaret, in 2004. ### House Description:

The McPherson House is located on Pine Lane, a private drive that extends northward from Pine Street and then curves west, terminating in a circular gravel drive in front of the residence. It is situated on a parcel that is approximately 2.3-acres in size, rectangular in shape, and measures 560 feet east-west and 185 feet north-south. The parcel is comprised of two lots: Lot 1 includes the main house with circular drive, coach house and adjacent storage building with courtyard, and a stone well; Lot 2 on the west includes an in-ground pool and pool house. The house is not visible from the public right-of-way as it is set back nearly 500 feet from Pine

Street, to the north of three other houses on large parcels (1201 Pine Street, 614 Pine, 624 Pine Lane). It is set in a part like setting, featuring expansive front and rear lawns and mature trees.<sup>45</sup>

The two-story, Colonial Revival style McPherson House, built in 1922 and designed by Clark and Walcott, has an L-shaped footprint: the main block faces east and has a setback living room on its south end; the east (service) wing faces south. A one-story, one-room north wing built in the 1930s received a second story in 1969.

The house has a cross gable roof covered with asphalt shingles and is primarily sheathed in light orange brick. However, portions of the second-floor walls on the main block are sheathed in wood shingles painted brown. Most of the north wing is sheathed in wood siding. Fenestration throughout the house is primarily comprised of eight-over-eight wood-sash windows with wooden louvered shutters that are arranged alone, and sometimes in pairs. First floor windows are typically topped with jack arches. Window bays feature multi-light picture windows.

The front (east) façade of the main block features a wood paneled door with elliptical fanlight and sidelights, as well as an exterior chimney. The front façade of the east wing has a central entrance with wood paneled door with elliptical fanlight.

The rear (west) façade of the main block has a central, screened-in porch with flat roof and a wood balustrade. A rectangular, wood-sheathed second floor window bay is situated directly above this porch. The porch is flanked by a two-story, five-sided window bay to the south, and a five-sided first floor window bay to the north. These bays are detailed with Doric pilasters. The northernmost end of this façade has sliding glass doors.

The north façade of the projecting north wing features a two-story, three-sided window bay. The north façade of the east (service) wing has an entrance with wood door that is sheltered by porch with gable roof supported by four wood posts. An exterior chimney is situated at the east end of this façade.

The first floor plan includes an entrance hall with large walk-in closet, a half bathroom, living room, screened-in porch, office, and family room (original dining room) in the main block; a kitchen, hallway, guest bedroom, and full bathroom in the east service wing; and a dining room and pantry in the north wing. The formal entrance hall has a staircase with wood newell posts and turned wood railings. The segmental arched door openings in the entrance hall are detailed with keystones. The west end of the entrance hall features French doors with sidelights that open onto the screened-in porch and flanking entrances to the living room and family room (original dining room), both of which are paneled in antique pine. The family room also has a pair of antique pine double doors. The east wall of the living room has a fireplace with marble surround. The office situated next to the front hallway has a fireplace on its north wall with a simple wood surround and mantle.

The dining room has a metal spiral staircase on its southwest corner and a built-in hutch on its north wall. The kitchen opens onto a pantry that is lined with built-in drawers and cabinets; the east wall of the kitchen has a carpeted wood staircase that leads to the second floor. The hallway in the east wing opens onto a wood stairway to the unfinished basement. The north wall of the first-floor bedroom in the east wing has a fireplace with wood surround and mantle that is ornamented with ceramic tiles. The north and south walls of this room feature built-in bookshelves detailed with Doric pilasters.

The second floor has a stair hall, four bedrooms, sitting room, and three full bathrooms (main block); a bedroom with full bathroom in the north wing; and a recreation room, full bathroom, and laundry room in the east wing. Three of the four walls of the sitting room are lined with either built-in shelves or closets, as this room originally served as a dressing room for the adjacent master bedroom.

Walls on both the first and second floors are mainly finished in plaster, except for the living room and family room (original dining room), which have antique pine-covered walls, and the bathrooms, where some walls are partially covered with ceramic tile. Ceilings are finished in plaster. Hardwood flooring is used throughout the house, except in the screen-in porch (flagstone flooring); dining room (glazed brick flooring); kitchen, pantry and kitchen hallway (hexagonal tile flooring); and bathrooms (various types of ceramic flooring). Wall-to-wall carpeting covers the front and side staircases, hardwood in most of the bedrooms, and the second-floor hallway.

Most rooms throughout the house have simple, unadorned wood baseboard and ceiling molding, as well as equally simple wood door and window casings, all painted white. Wood paneled interior doors are also painted white. The hallway has a chair railing. The basement is unfinished and has a series of rooms with concrete flooring.

Alterations:

The McPherson House has excellent architectural integrity and is virtually unchanged from its original appearance. The main exterior change is the construction of the two-story north wing that includes a pantry/dining room on the first floor and bedroom with full bathroom above. The balustrade above the screened-in porch is non-original. The roof covering has been changed from wood shingles to asphalt shingles.

Interior changes are minimal and include the addition of rooms in the north wing. The front hall staircase, upper floor hallway, and some bedrooms have been carpeted. The current recreation room in the east (service) wing was originally comprised of two bedrooms.

Rear façade showing one-story north wing on the left, which was added in 1932, and the original balustrade above the screen-in porch.

Outbuildings

The Edwin Clark-designed coach house was built in 1929 and later received a screened-in porch on its east façade, and a one-story south wing. It is sheathed in light orange brick that matches the brickwork on the house and has a cross gable roof covered with asphalt shingles. Fenestration is primarily comprised of eight-over-eight or six-over-six wood-sash windows with jack arches. The front façade of the 1.5 story garage section has two segmental-arched openings with overhead wood-paneled doors, a wood-paneled service door, and a strip of four dormers. The front façade of the adjacent L-shaped dwelling has an entrance with wood-paneled door and two windows. The west façade has a wood paneled service door and one window on the first floor, and an arched multi-pane window on the upper level.

A carpeted stairway provides access to the bedroom and full bathroom above the garage. The first floor living space has a hallway, a second bedroom and full bathroom, a living room, and a kitchen that opens onto the screened-in porch. Walls and ceilings are finished in plaster. Flooring is wood except for the hallway (parquet tiles) and bathrooms (ceramic tiles). Rooms have simple, unadorned wood baseboard and ceiling molding, as well as equally simple wood door and window casings, all painted white. Wood paneled interior doors are also painted white. The hallway has a chair railing.

The coach house is fronted by a concrete courtyard bounded by brick walls on its east side that flank a one-story, flat-roofed storage building that is accessed by a pair of wood double-doors.

Its brick walls match those of the courtyard walls. The north façade has four fixed windows, each with eight panes. The other facades are windowless.

The Edwin Clark-designed pool house was built in 1936 and is comprised of two hip roofed cabanas linked by a gable-roofed screened-in porch. The building is sheathed with aluminum siding and the roof is covered with asphalt shingles. The west façade has a total of five one-over-one metal windows. Each cabana is accessed by a wood paneled door and has a shower and a wood bench.

Architects Edwin H. Clark and Chester H. Walcott

The McPherson House at 644 Pine Lane was among the distinctive residential designs by the firm Clark and Walcott, headed by partners Edwin H. Clark and Chester H. Walcott. Both of these esteemed architects specialized in high-style residential work, designing many houses on the North Shore and in Winnetka. Sketches, plans, and photos of their work together, practicing alone, or in partnership with others, were published in national magazines/journals, such as The American Architect, Architectural Record, House and Garden, Western Architect and Country Life (New York). News of their work was also regularly published in the popular press, including the Chicago Tribune.

Edwin Hill Clark (1878-1967) was born in Chicago, the son of Alson and Sarah (Skinner) Clark. His father, a native of Vermont, came to Chicago in 1865 and was in the commission business until 1889, when he moved his family to Europe for two years. Alson Clark subsequently became president of the Wadsworth-Howland Company, which manufactured paints, and the well-to-do Clark family lived at 2229 Calumet Avenue, just one block east of the fashionable Prairie Avenue.<sup>46</sup> Edwin Clark graduated from Phillips Academy in Andover, Massachusetts in 1896, and from Yale University with a Ph.D. 1900. He worked as an assistant superintendent for his father's paint company from 1900 to 1903, the year he married Katharine Bayley of Chicago. The couple had two children: Robert and Alice.<sup>47</sup>

A severe case of lead poisoning led Clark to take a leave of absence from his position at the paint company in 1902, during which time he studied drafting at the Armour Institute in Chicago. He entered the architecture firm of William Otis the following year as an entry draftsman.<sup>48</sup> Clark received his architect's license in 1907, and he and Otis became partners in 1908.<sup>49</sup> This was the start of a business partnership that lasted until 1920. William A. Otis (1855-1929), the firm's senior partner, received architectural training at the prestigious Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris. He entered the firm of Chicago architect William LeBaron Jenney in 1881, becoming a partner in 1886 when the firm was renamed Jenney and Otis. He worked independently starting in 1889, designing public libraries, schools, houses, and churches in a variety of historical revival styles. Otis, a Winnetka resident, lived with his family in a house he designed at 644 Oak Street.<sup>50</sup>

The architecture firm of Otis and Clark, which maintained offices at 105 S. Dearborn Street, designed many houses on the North Shore and their work was well-regarded among the architectural profession. The May 1915 issue of The Architectural Record included a lengthy profile on the firm's residential work, accompanied by photos and descriptions of specific projects, including the James Ward Thorne House in Lake Forest (1910), designed in the French Renaissance Revival style. The Walter Kirk House in Lake Forest, commonly known as Vallombrosa, was modeled on a Tuscan villa. Chicago's E.I. Cudahy residence was a three-story townhouse in the Italian Renaissance Revival style. Author Herbert Croly noted that, "The cleverness of architects who can handle so many different styles with so much taste and with such a nice sense of the idiom of each particular style is incontestable."<sup>51</sup> Works by Otis and Clark in Winnetka include the Arts and Crafts-inspired Greeley School (1912), the Georgian Revival style Indian Hill Club, as well as houses at 661 Blackthorn Road and 485 Cherry Street.<sup>52</sup>

Edwin Clark established an architectural partnership with Chester Walcott in 1920, which lasted four years. The May 15, 1920 issue of American Contractor (p. 36) included a notice on the formation of the new firm: "Edwin H. Clark and Chester H. Walcott have announced that they have formed a partnership for the practice of architecture under the name of Clark and Walcott, at 8 E. Huron Street, Chicago."

Chester Walcott (1883 to 1947), the son of Chester P. and Martha (Howe) Walcott, graduated from Evanston High School in 1901 and from Princeton University in 1905 with a B.S. degree in architecture. He continued his architectural studies in Italy, and in ateliers of the Ecole des Beaux Arts in Paris over the next three years. He entered a partnership with Arthur Brown (Brown and Walcott) in 1911 and practiced under his own name from 1916 to 1919.<sup>53</sup> A resident of Winnetka, he married Julie Cummings on June 27, 1912 and the couple had two children: Helen (b. 1914) and Julie (b. 1917). The family lived in a house at 302 Forest Avenue in 1920, later moving to a house at 594 Elm Street.<sup>54</sup>

The Clark and Walcott firm specialized in residential architecture, designing large houses and country estates in a variety of revival styles throughout Chicago's North Shore suburbs. Their elegantly styled residences were characterized by decorative restraint and an appreciation for fine craftsmanship and materials. In addition to the McPherson House at 644 Pine Lane, extant residential work by Clark and Walcott in Winnetka includes the Henry T. Stanton House at 698 Blackthorn Lane (1920), the William B. Mouton House at 1161 Pine Street (1920), and houses located at 1127 Sheridan (1920), 520 Oak Street (1921), 480 Rosewood (1921), and 610 Spruce Street (1921).<sup>55</sup> The Colonial Revival style house they designed for Francis and Deborah Butler at 630 Pine Lane (1922), a designated Winnetka landmark, was razed in 2009.

A photo of Clark and Walcott's French provincial style residence for Francis Parker Jr. in Lake Forest was included in the October 1922 issue of The Architectural Record. The November 1923 issue of the same journal featured a photo of a Spanish Revival style house in Chicago designed by the architects for Victor S. Pearlman, in association with S.C. Wentworth. Clark and Walcott also designed houses for Leeds Mitchell and Alfred T. Carton in Lake Forest, and for Clifford Off and William G. Burt in Evanston. Non-residential commissions in Chicago included the aquarium and hatchery in Lincoln Park Zoo (1923; now Reptile House) and a remodeling of St. Chrysostom's Parish House at 1424 N. State Parkway. The latter project was profiled in the November 1923 issue of Architectural Record. In Winnetka, they designed a large addition to the Edwin Clark-designed Indian Hill Club (1924) and buildings for the North Shore Country Day School.<sup>56</sup>

The work of Clark and Walcott was profiled in the October 22 issue of Western Architect (Volume 31), which included 16 pages of photos and floorplans illustrating their work. An accompanying essay stated:

<sup>55</sup> Historian Charles Haskins compiled a list in ca. 2001 of Winnetka residences designed by Edwin Clark, either alone or in partnership with others, which identifies the houses at 1161 Pine Street and 1127 Sheridan as Clark and Walcott designs. This list also identifies seven other houses in Winnetka designed by this firm, but provides only the owner names, rather than street addresses. Other houses were identified as Clark and Walcott designs in the partial architectural survey of the Village of Winnetka.

Clark and Walcott, architects, Chicago, are among the younger members of the profession who have established an enviable reputation for work of excellence and distinction. That suburban territory stretching north along the lake shore from Chicago, known as the North Shore, is the district in which the firm has done most of its work. Largely residential, there is some charming church work, a country club, and more recently some school work which bear the name of this firm of the individual members, Mr. Edwin H. Clark and Mr. Chester H. Walcott. Certain districts of Winnetka, notably that in the vicinity of Hill Country Club, bears the stamps of excellence of this firm's work.

...As will be noted in some designs, the architects have been influenced by American-Colonial work, in others by English models; but an original and distinctly personal quality permeates each essay, whatever its inspiration, and in no case does one feel that the architects have been "bound" by historic precedent....In the work of Clark and Walcott we find a distinctly refreshing originality the expression of which has been made in terms well known to all—historic precedent if you please.<sup>57</sup>

Chester Walcott's successful application for membership in the American Institute of Architects was signed and endorsed by architects Edwin H. Clark and C. Herrick Hammond.<sup>58</sup> Clark and Walcott dissolved their partnership in 1924 and established independent practices, as announced Chicago Tribune:

Edwin H. Clark and Chester H. Walcott, who have operated under the firm name of Clark & Walcott for several years at 8 East Huron Street, are to practice architecture individually. Mr. Clark will remain at the present Huron street address and Robert G. Dwen and Walter J. Quaid will continue with him in their same capacity. Mr. Walcott has opened offices at 108 South LaSalle Street.<sup>59</sup> then-unincorporated area between Winnetka and the Indian Hill estates section of Wilmette. In 1934, he designed an enormous Colonial Revival style mansion for attorney Edward Brundage at 700 S. Ridge Road in Lake Forest. He also designed several YMCA buildings, including those in Evanston (1420 Maple Avenue) and in Kenosha, Wisconsin. At the time of his death in 1947 at the age of 64, Walcott was working on plans for buildings on the new Lake Forest Academy grounds. He then lived at 770 N. Sheridan Road in Lake Forest.<sup>60</sup>

Clark also enjoyed a successful career as an independent architect, designing a variety of institutional and recreational buildings while continuing his residential work. An early shopping center and theater in Wilmette, the Mission style Plaza Del Lago Shops and the Teatro Del Lago (demolished), were designed by Clark in the mid-1920s to accommodate the automobile. In Chicago, he designed the Latin School at 1531 N. Dearborn Street (1926) and the Waveland Field House (1932), a Collegiate Gothic structure with clock tower located on Waveland Avenue, east of Lake Shore Drive. He received the prestigious commission to design the plan and buildings for the new Brookfield Zoo in suburban Brookfield during the 1920s. Clark also designed Village Hall buildings for Winnetka and Hinsdale; a State Hospital in Manteno, Illinois; and the Lake Forest Library at 360 E. Deerpath (1931).<sup>61</sup> His later residential commissions included the French Renaissance Revival style Alden Swift House (1925) in Lake Forest and the Dudley Cates House at 1190 Westmoor Road in Winnetka (1927).

Edwin and Katharine Clark resided in Winnetka for 35 years, starting in 1910, living in two houses of Clark's design, including a large Tudor Revival style home at 909 Mt. Pleasant Road (1927) and a Colonial Revival style home at 251 White Oak Lane (1938). Clark also designed two houses for his brother Mancell in Winnetka, which were located at 760 Bryant (1908) and at 76 Locust Street (1924).<sup>62</sup>

Edwin Clark belonged to a variety of upscale clubs throughout his professional career, which provided social venues to meet potential clients. These included the University, Chicago, City, Saddle and Cycle, Indian Hill, Arts, Tavern and the Commercial. He later came out of private practice to form subsequent partnerships: Clark and Banse (1937-1939) and Clark and Stanton (1939-1940). He practiced independently post-1940 and retired in 1947. He resided in Evanston at the time of his death in 1967 at the age of 88.<sup>63</sup>

Landmark Status of the Property

The McPherson House is not a locally designated landmark or in a locally designated historic district. It is not listed individually on the National Register of Historic Places or in a National Register Historic District. It is not listed in the Illinois Historic Structures Survey conducted in the early 1970s.

Evaluation of Historic Significance

The house does not possess historic significance at a local, statewide, or national level. The historic (pre-1970) owners of this house were researched through a variety of sources, including the Chicago History Museum's online catalog; the newspapers.com database; U.S. Census records, and the book titled, Who's Who in Chicago and Vicinity for varying years. Several of its historic (pre-1970) owners were members of old and distinguished Chicago families and/or were well-respected in their fields. None, however, were found to merit individual distinction. No information was found relating the house to an historic event.

Evaluation of Architectural Significance

The McPherson House at 644 Pine Lane possesses statewide and local significance as a distinctive residential design by the firm Clark and Walcott and as a noteworthy example of an architectural style. Edwin H. Clark and Chester H. Walcott were highly esteemed architects who specialized in high-style residential work, designing many houses on the North Shore and in Winnetka. Sketches, plans, and photos of their work together, practicing alone, or in partnership with others, were published in national magazines/journals that included The American Architect, Architectural Record, House and Garden, Western Architect and Country Life (New York). News of their work was also regularly published in the popular press, including the Chicago Tribune. Edwin Clark, working alone or with Walcott, designed the Village Hall, North Shore County Day School, Indian Hill Country Club and many noteworthy houses in Winnetka. Clark also designed many prominent institutional and recreational buildings in the Chicago region, including the master plan and buildings for Brookfield Zoo. Several of his works as a sole practitioner are listed in the AIA Guide to Chicago and are rated "Orange" in the Chicago Historic Resources Survey, meaning that they possess "significance to the community."

The McPherson House possesses local architectural significance as a unique example of a Colonial Revival style house with Shingle style elements. The Colonial Revival was fashionable as a residential style throughout the nation from the late nineteenth century through the 1940s and reflected the prevailing trend toward historicism, as architects looked nostalgically to the past for inspiration. Dozens of houses in Winnetka built from the 1920s through the 1940s were designed in this popular style. Such houses in the Village are typically clad in brick or wood and have a rectangular footprint, a symmetrical front façade with centrally located door, double-hung windows with multi-pane glazing, and a side-gabled or hipped roof, sometimes with dormers. High style examples may feature doors with fanlights and/or sidelights, porches with balustrades, Palladian windows, modillioned cornices, and pedimented dormers.

Colonial Revival elements featured in the McPherson house include its symmetrical front façade with centrally located door (east wing), elliptical fanlights over both front entrances, wood paneled doors, multi-paned double-hung windows with wooden shutters, and side-gable roofs. The house also displays wood shingle cladding on the second floor of the front and rear facades (main block), one- and two-story window bays, and exterior brick chimneys, which are hallmarks of the Shingle style. This popular residential style was mainly used in seaside resorts of the northeastern states in the late nineteenth century. As an amalgam of these styles, the McPherson House is a unique residence of picturesque appearance that displays high quality craftsmanship and materials. The house has excellent architectural integrity and the major change that occurred (north wing) was designed by the original architect.

Evaluation of Neighborhood Impact

The McPherson House was built in 1922 as part of the original Winnetka Heights subdivision, which comprised a large, wooded tract on the western periphery of the Village bounded by Rosewood, Hibbard, Pine Street and Westmoor. The subdivision was developed by McGuire and Orr, who sold homesites at a cost $7,000 to $12,000 per acre.<sup>64</sup> Property owners built high-style houses designed by prominent architects on their expansive parcels, which in some cases were over two acres in size. The houses built in this subdivision were spread far apart and generally not conceived in relation to each other, aside perhaps from houses on the interior private drives, such as the now-demolished Butler House and the McPherson House on Pine Lane, both of which were built in 1922 and designed by Clark and Walcott in the Colonial Revival style. The French Mansard style house at 614 Pine Lane (now the Indonesian Consulate) was the only other house built along this private drive in the 1920s. (See Sanborn Map attached to this report.)

In 1927, Edwin Clark designed a magnificent Tudor Revival style house for insurance executive Dudley Cates at 1190 Westmoor Road, which is directly north of, but not visible from, the McPherson House. Both houses are located on large sites and they are not visible to each other. The original 3.5-acre size of the McPherson parcel was reduced to about 2.3 acres in 1961, when owner Harold Nutting subdivided the property into three lots and sold off Lot 3 fronting Hibbard Road. In 2009, the Village of Winnetka rescinded the local landmark designation of the Butler House at 630 Pine Lane to allow for the subdivision of its parcel. This 1922 house was subsequently razed, and a Neo-Arts and Crafts style house built to the east at 624 Pine Lane. Houses at the terminus of Pelham Road—a interior private drive to the east—are not visible from Pine Lane, due to heavy foliage and a tall stockade fence.

Butler House formerly located at 630 Pine Lane, just to the south of the McPherson House (razed 2009). This house, like the McPherson House, was built in 1922 and designed by Clark and Walcott.

“Final Sale Wednesday in Winnetka Subdivision,” Chicago Tribune (November 5, 1922).

The nearest houses to Pine Lane that are visible from the public right-of-way are those on the 1100 and 1200 blocks of Pine Street. There are 15 houses on these two blocks: five on the north side and 10 on the south side. The north side of Pine Street was part of the Winnetka Heights subdivision; its five houses have deep setbacks, are situated on exceedingly large lots, and were built in the 1920s in a variety of historical styles, including French Provincial, Arts and Crafts, Tudor Revival, and Colonial Revival. In contrast, the south side of this stretch of Pine Street was largely developed in the post-World War II period and features several Ranch type houses that face the street and have similar setbacks. This group of mid-twentieth century houses joined two earlier revival style houses: 1124 and 1154 Pine Street, designed in the Tudor and Colonial Revival styles, respectively. There is one post-1990 house on this block, a Neo-Eclectic style residence at 1180 Pine Street.

The houses on Pine Lane and the 1100 and 1200 blocks of Pine Street lack a cohesive architectural character. They include, with the McPherson House, two houses from the 1910s, seven from the 1920s, seven from the 1950s, and two houses built post-1990. The houses range from one- to two-and-a-half stories in height and feature a variety of architectural styles, cladding materials, and rooflines. Massing is quite different as well, ranging from smaller-scale Ranch houses to large estate houses.

Edwin Clark designed Dudley Cates House at 1190 Westmoor Road (1927), in the Winnetka Heights Subdivision.

The McPherson House and its coach house are located on a very isolated parcel that is set back approximately 500 feet from Pine Street. The property is accessed via a private drive and neither building can be seen from the street or from neighboring properties to the east, west, or north. It is only visible to residents of the house at 624 Pine Lane. The McPherson House does not contribute to a cohesive grouping of houses within the larger Winnetka Heights Subdivision, or on nearby Pine Street. Its original neighbor to the south, the Butler House at 630 Pine Lane (1922), was demolished in 2009. The house does not contribute to a cohesive grouping of houses, as residences on Pine Lane and the 1100 and 1200 blocks of Pine Street display a variety of architectural styles, materials, and setbacks, and were built in different eras. As a result, the demolition of the McPherson House would not have a negative impact on the existing character of the surrounding neighborhood.

Dear Mr. Marx,

The Winnetka Historical Society has reviewed Dr. Guarino's thorough research of the property at 644 Pine Lane. We agree with the assessment that the property maintains both local and statewide architectural significance.

In addition, while we are hesitant to agree with Dr. Guarino's assertion that the property contains no local historical significance, we do agree that the findings indicate that the historic owners were more notable for their familial or occupational associations than their own individual distinction.

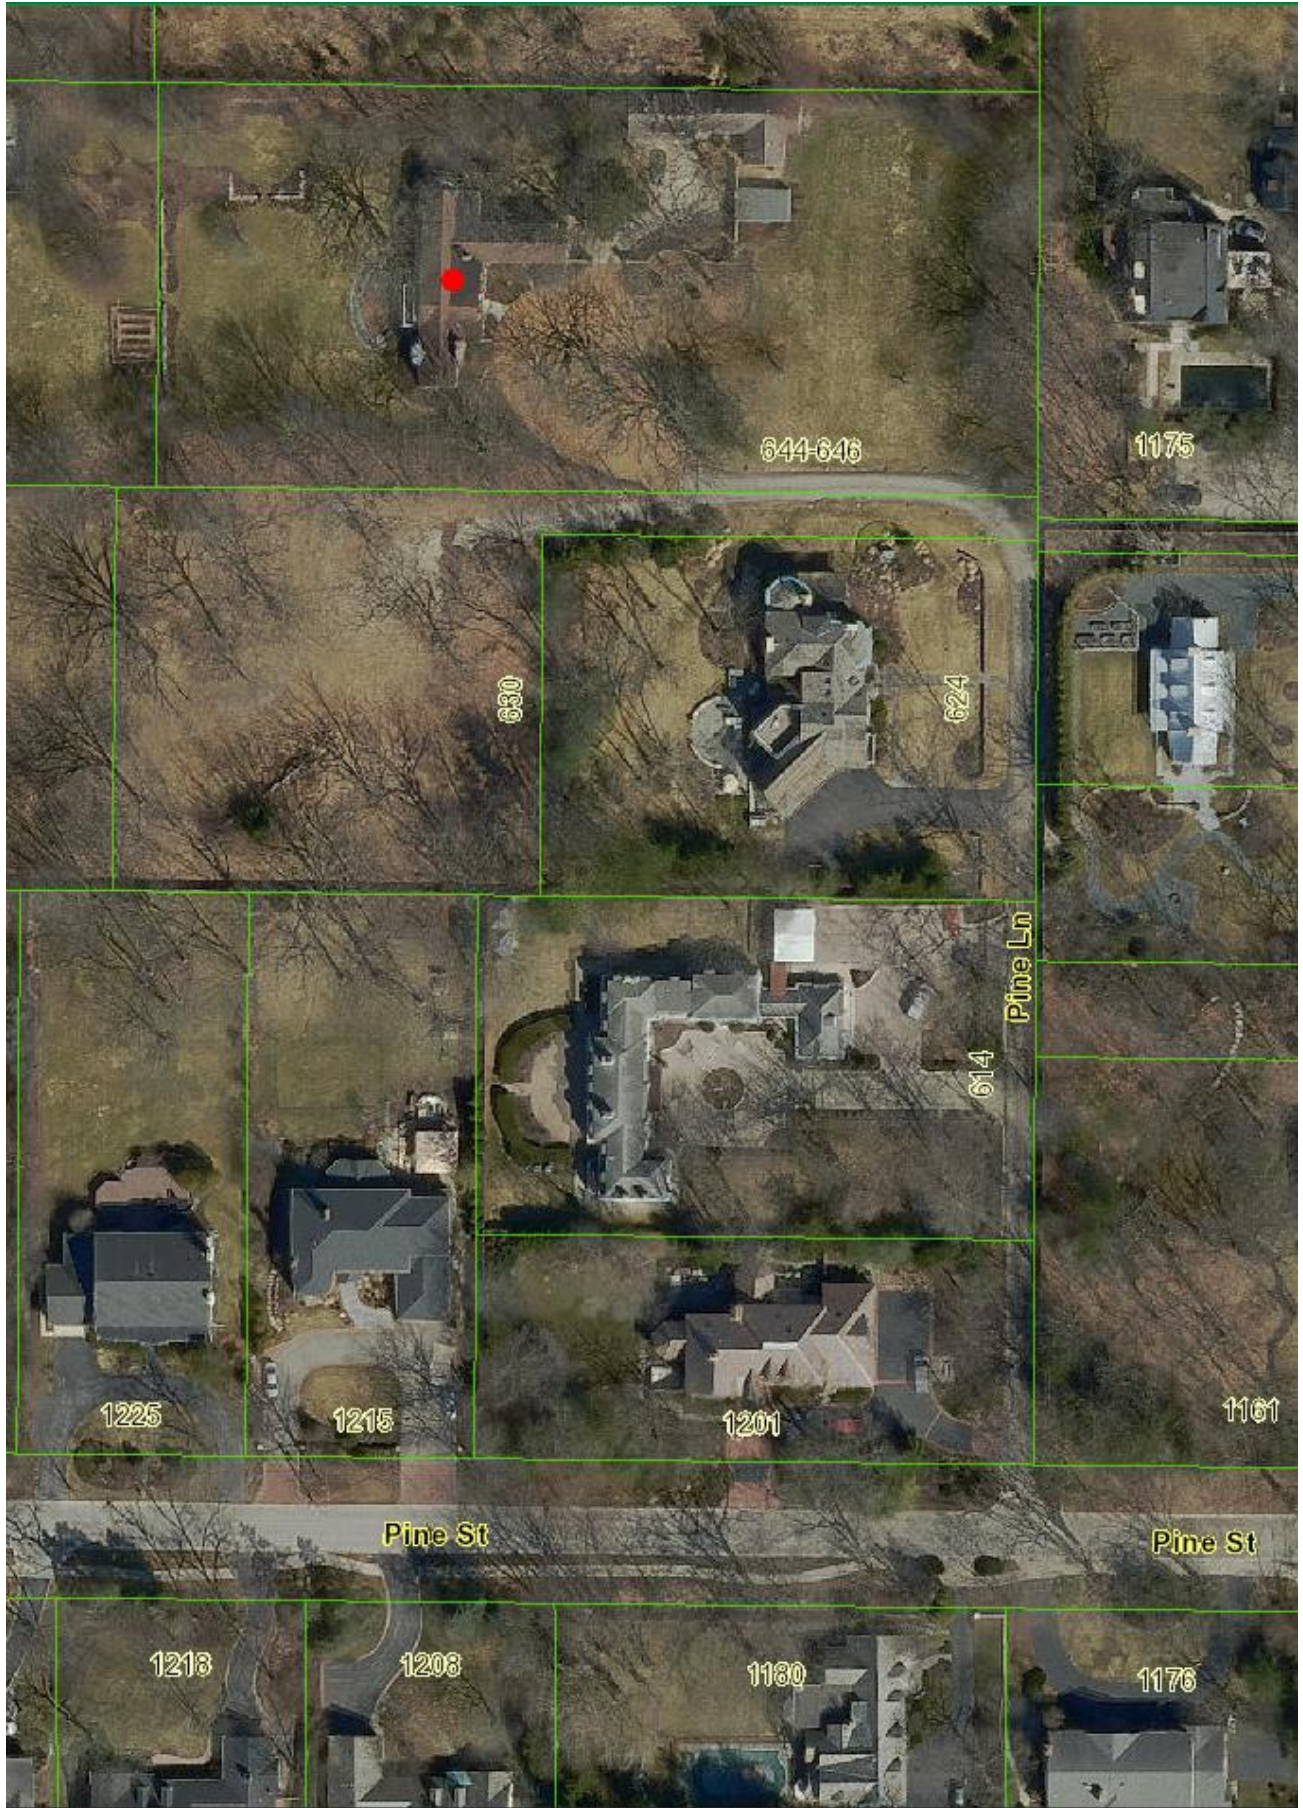

Sincerely,

Mary Trieschmann

Phone books, property files, Chicago Tribune, Winnetka Talk, WHS digital files, The Gazette, Google search, Ancestry.com

Date of Research: 8/31/2020

Our research indicates that this property does have architectural and historical significance. The original architect of the property, Edwin H. Clark (along with his second business partner Russell Walcott, after previously partnering with William Otis) was a prominent architect who designed several well-known and/or historic buildings in the Chicagoland area, including several at the Lincoln Park Zoo (including the Administration building, Reptile House, and Primate House), the Brookfield Zoo, the Lake Forest Public Library, Hinsdale Village Hall, the Latin School of Chicago, Lake Forest Academy, and Willmette's Plaza del Lago. Clark also designed several buildings for the 1933-1934 Century of Progress exposition in Chicago. In addition, Clark designed and co-designed some of the nationally-historic buildings at the National Zoological Park in Washington, D.C. (perhaps most notably the Elephant House).*

Locally, Clark was the architect of many significant Winnetka buildings, including several historic homes, schools, and public buildings. In particular, Clark was the architect of Winnetka's Village Hall (a local landmark building), North Shore Country Day School, Greeley School (in partnership with William Otis), and Indian Hill Club.** Clark also served as Winnetka's Park Commissioner in the late 1930s.

Additionally, this property has been home to several prominent Winnetka residents, including Donald F. McPherson, an accomplished Chicago attorney, and Frances Ogden McPherson, great niece of William B. Ogden, the first Mayor of Chicago. McPherson likely sold the property to his son-in-law's brother Ralph N. Isham, who was the son of Ralph N. Isham Sr., the founder of Northwestern's Feinberg School of Medicine. Isham was married to Eleanor Dennehy of the Dennehy Estate in Winnetka, which later became the Forest Glen subdivision. In addition, Isham was the brother-in-law of Josephine Dennehy and her husband Nicholas Galitzine, a Prince of Russia (and later the VP of ComEd in Chicago). Nicholas Galitzine was the son of Prince Paul Galitzine of Smolensk, a Russian aristocrat and relative of the Czar. Isham was also the brother-in-law of Hemptead Washburne, son of Hemptead Washburne, another former Mayor of Chicago.

In addition, 644 Pine Lane was also home to Harold Nutting, the former executive VP and general manager of Marshall Field and Co., chairman of the board to trustees of Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital, chairman and chief executive officer of Overseas Industries, Inc., chairman of Thomas Moulding Brick Co., VP of Chicago YMCA, former president of the Chicago Better Business Bureau, VP and trustee of the Frozen Food Foundation, and director of the National Retail Dry Goods Association. Nutting was also the former director of North Shore Country Day School.

Ralph Nelson Isham

Ralph Nelson Isham was born in the town of Mannheim, New York in 1831. After acquiring a good academic education at the Herkimer Academy, at Little Falls, NY, he entered upon the study of medicine and received the degree of M.D. from the University of the City of New York Bellevue Hospital Medical College in 1854. He then served a full term as house physician and surgeon in Bellevue Hospital, at the completion of which he moved to Chicago in November 1855 to enter into practice.

In 1859 he joined with others in the organization of the medical department of Lind University, later the Chicago Medical College, later known as the Northwestern University Medical School, and accepted the chair of surgical anatomy and operative surgery. In the discharge of his duties he acquired a high reputation as a teacher and as a successful surgical operator.

During the Civil War, 1861-1865, he served as a member of the sanitary Commission, and was one of its organizers. He twice went south with supplies and doctors and was in the field at the battle of Shiloh. During the war he led the United States Marine Hospital at Chicago, which then was a military hospital. He continued in charge of the Marine Hospital for several years after the war ended.

At various times he has served as professor of surgery in the Northwestern University, surgeon to the Jewish Hospital, now the Michael Reese Hospital, member of the board of trustees of the North Star

Dispensary, surgeon to the Presbyterian Hospital, consulting surgeon to the Passavant Hospital, and delegate to the International Medical Congress in London in 1881.

He was one of the original guarantors of the Chicago orchestra, also at one time a trustee of the Central church. He was a member of various clubs, societies and organizations, and a member of nearly all of the medical societies, being honorary member of the New York Medical Society.

NOTABLE FACT: It was in Dr. Isham's office that the organizational meeting for the Lind University medical department took place and he became the youngest faculty member. Lind University is now known as the Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine.

GARDEN CLUB'S JOSEPHINE GALITZINE

By Kenan Heise
CHICAGO TRIBUNE

AUGUST 18, 1988

Josephine Dennehy Galitzine, 76, was a former president of the Lake Forest Garden Club and past woman's champion golfer at Onwentsia Club in Lake Forest.

Mass for Mrs. Galitzine, a lifelong resident of Lake Forest, will be said at 3 p.m. Friday in St. Mary's Catholic Church, 175 E. Illinois Rd., Lake Forest. She died Tuesday in Lake Forest Hospital.

"She was very quiet and unassuming," her daughter Marina Carney said.

"She was an avid gardener and mad for azalea plants. She was the only one I knew who could keep them over from year to year. She was interested in and grew roses, orchids and African violets."

Mrs. Galitzine had been a 5-handicap golfer at Onwentsia.

Her husband, Nicholas, a Chicago business leader, served as vice president of Commonwealth Edison Co. and president of United Charities. He was the son of Prince Paul Galitzine of Smolensk, a Russian aristocrat and relative of the czar.

Survivors, besides her daughter, include two other daughters, Alexandra Pleasants and Josephine Hadow; nine grandchildren; five great-grandchildren; and a sister.

Before Forest Glen – The Dennehy Estate

Categories: Gazette

By Tane Beecham

Someone out for a stroll through Hubbard Woods in the early 1900s would have observed many new homes going up as the area became increasingly populated with family-sized houses on manageable lots. One would also have taken note of a very large 10-acre wooded plot of land on the north side of Tower Road, dwarfing much of the subdivided land surrounding it.

Referred to on historic maps as “Dennehy’s Consolidation,” the property was the estate of Thomas C. Dennehy. It was sold to C. A. Hemphill and Associates in 1939, and became the 38 residences of the Forest Glen subdivision.

Walking through Forest Glen now it is difficult to imagine the romance of this once large sprawling estate. Slightly rolling and completely wooded, the land encompassed a large mansion serving as the Dennehy family’s summer residence.

Thomas C. Dennehy acquired the property at 1231 North Avenue (later renamed Tower Road) by 1905, choosing the property as a summer season complement to the family's glamorous home on Astor Street in Chicago's Gold Coast. The Dennehy estate burned down sometime during the 1930s.

The Dennehy name, now largely forgotten, was at one time associated with the pinnacles of wealth and prominence in Chicago.

Born in 1858 to a Chicago family operating a successful liquor distributorship, Dennehy entered the family business at age 17. The success of the Clear Springs Distilling Company brought the Dennehys significant wealth and established them as one of Chicago's most prominent families.

In 1900, at the age of 41, Dennehy married another Gold Coast resident, Virginia Inderrieden, age 26. During the next few years they lived in several Gold Coast residences, finally settling in 1913 on a four-story home at 1549 Astor Street with ten bedrooms and a magnificent ballroom. With the onset of Prohibition in 1920, Mr. Dennehy redirected his business endeavors into commercial real estate.

The Dennehys acquired their Hubbard Woods property with plans to use it primarily as a summer retreat. Thomas and Virginia Dennehy proceeded to raise seven children there – all of whom married into equally prominent families.

Their daughter Josephine married former Prince Nicholas Galitzine of Russia in 1932 and became known as Princess Josephine. Another daughter, Eleanor, married Ralph Isham, son of Northwestern University Medical College founder and owner of the Gold Coast residence known as the Playboy Mansion. A third daughter, Mary, was wed to Hempstead Washburne, son of the former Chicago Mayor also named Hemptead Washburne.

Society pages took note of Dennehy marriages, some of which were held at their Winnetka home, as well as other family milestones. For daughter Mary's 18th birthday, her father gave her a birthday gift of Chicago real estate worth over $4 million in today's dollars.

The Thomas C. Dennehy family lived in Winnetka for over 30 years. And while their roots were very much in Chicago, the family personified the historical link between the big city and the small town up north. Society, business, and culture kept them in the city, but in summer their hearts always drew them to Winnetka. ■

Thanks to Dennehy family historian Charles Askins for inspiring and contributing research to this story.

Charles Little Harper passed away peacefully in his sleep on December 14th at age 86, surrounded by family in his home in North Tustin, California. A devoted father of 6 and grandfather of 23, "Charlie" put his faith, trust and ultimate hope in Jesus of Nazareth and his gift of eternal life. Born March 23rd, 1930 in Evanston, Illinois, son of Margaret Little Harper and Harvey Mitchell Harper of Winnetka, brother to Mitch and Kenny Harper, Charlie attended the Hotchkiss School and Princeton University. A graduate in engineering, he was commissioned in the US Navy, serving 1952-4 in the Arctic and Mediterranean as LTJG. Charlie was a mid-boat "engine room" rower in the famous Princeton crew team that took 2nd in the US Olympic trials to Navy, the boat that won gold for the USA in Helsinki in 1952. In 1955 he married Alice "Patty" Fall with whom he had 6 children, Charles, Margaret, Greta, Alice, Serena and Paisley, raising their family both in Winnetka and Houston. After Patty's death in 2003, he married her youngest sister Margaret in 2004, mother of 4 and grandmother of 9. They lived in Orange County, CA and in Joe's Pond, VT. Charlie worked for his father, founder of the H. M. Harper Company of Morton Grove, IL, manufacturing stainless steel and high-tech metallurgical extrusions with a workforce of over 2000. He rose to the position of President over 2 1/2 decades with the company through 1978. In 1981 he accepted a VP position with American Car and Foundry in Houston as CEO/General Manager of its WKM division, manufacturing high-tech subsea valves and related products for the offshore oil industry worldwide. Charlie was an avid sportsman, sailor and outdoor enthusiast throughout his life, competing in star boat competitions nationally and in volleyball competitions locally; also introducing his children and grandchildren to skiing, snorkeling, SCUBA, waterskiing, canoeing, hunting and fishing. His great legacy is found in his family, for whom he was a constant champion. Exceptional dedication to family extended to church, philanthropic and community activities, including support for evangelism, school building projects and volunteering in retirement with the Silver Fox Advisors, Executive Service Corps and several churches, including most recently the Covenant Presbyterian Church of Orange, CA, where a funeral service will be held on Saturday December 17th at 1pm. A family burial service will be held in Glenwood Cemetery, of Houston, Tuesday at 2 pm.

LAURENCE SCHWALL, 81, ARCHITECT OF MORE THAN 2,000 BUILDINGS

By David Heinzmann, Tribune Staff Writer

CHICAGO TRIBUNE

NOVEMBER 4, 1999

Architect Laurence Schwall's first and only thoughts of retiring came at age 80, when his declining health made it difficult for him to descend the stairs every day to the basement studio in his Northbrook home.

Mr. Schwall, who designed more than 2,000 buildings in his 59-year career, died at 81 Saturday in a Deerfield nursing home.

"He never even talked about retiring until a year ago after he had a stroke," said his stepdaughter, Leslie Boyd.

Born and raised in Wilmette, Mr. Schwall lived and practiced on the North Shore.

Among the buildings he designed are the Morton Grove Library, the Niles-Skokie Post Office, Glenview Village Hall, Fire Station No. 5 in Evanston, the Chalet Club in Glenview, Underwriters Laboratory, Hackney's restaurants and many other institutional and commercial buildings.

Mr. Schwall studied architecture at the University of Illinois. He would design any style clients wanted, said his wife, Phyllis, but his personal love were contemporary styles influenced by Frank Lloyd Wright's Prairie School.

Since 1968, the Schwalls lived in a home that Mr. Schwall designed, she said. He included a basement studio where he worked.

Mr. Schwall was an active member of St. Philip the Apostle Catholic Chyurch in Northfield. He designed the church's convent and rectory. He also supported the Divine Word Missionaries in nearby Techny, said Boyd, who added that her stepfather was as modest as he was generous.

"He was very much a behind-the-scenes kind of guy. We didn't even know about many of the things he supported until this week," she said.

Other survivors include a son, Steve; a sister, Frances Baker; and four grandchildren. Funeral services have been held.

760 Bryant Avenue

Gazette Article by: Cindy Fuller

Tribute to a Classic Style

The house at 760 Bryant Avenue is a classic example of Colonial Revival, an architectural style that has remained popular in America for over 200 years. Together with "Winnetka Tudor," Colonial Revival houses are the most commonly seen in Winnetka. The Centennial Exposition of 1876 in Philadelphia sparked a renewed interest in America's colonial architectural heritage. After the turn of the century, Colonial Revival architecture dominated construction throughout the country. Based on 17th and 18th century prototypes from the eastern seaboard, Colonial Revival buildings borrow stylistic elements from all types of colonial buildings. Typically, houses are rectangular and symmetrical in plan with classical detailing such as dentils. Double-hung, shuttered windows are common, and siding is usually wood, brick, or shingle.

760 Bryant Avenue was built in 1909 by architect Edwin H. Clark for his brother, Mancel T. Clark. An article published in the March 1909 issue of The House Beautiful describes the house: "If proportion is the good breeding of architecture, then balance and harmony must be the fine manners. Both inside and out this house impresses us with its good breeding and distinction."

Clark's design contains typical Colonial Revival elements, but the arrangement and proportion of those elements are what make it special. A wide clapboard-sided house, it is five window bays wide with two side wings. The center entrance is the focus of the house: pilasters flank the front door, which is topped by a decorative wrought iron railing surrounding a French door with fanlight. A molded cornice with dentils and three pedimented dormers complete the exterior detailing. Interior trim and woodwork are equally elegant and classical in design.

Born in Chicago, Edwin Clark graduated from Yale University in 1900. He joined William A. Otis' practice in 1906 and became partner in 1908. He continued with the firm, renamed Otis & Clark, until 1920. He then became a partner in Clark & Wolcott, and in 1924 founded his own firm and practiced alone until his retirement in 1946.

Edwin Clark made significant contributions locally as well as throughout Chicago. In Winnetka he is best remembered as architect for the Village Hall, North Shore Country Day School, and Indian Hill Club. He lived in the village beginning in 1908 and built numerous residences including 325 White Oak Lane, 280 White Oak Lane, 1127 Sheridan Road, and his own home at 909 Mt. Pleasant. In the Chicago area Clark designed Brookfield Zoo and Lincoln Park Aquarium.

760 Bryant Avenue stands in tribute to classic design and a classic Winnetka architect.

Editor's Note: This house is included in the Winnetka Historical Society publication, Winnetka Architecture: Where Past is Present, on page 26. It was incorrectly described as having been built for Walter Wilson in 1929. The authors apologize for the error.

Smaller firms sparkle in the big leaguers' shadow

By Paul Gapp

Architecture critic

BIG LEAGUE, "DOWNTOWN" architectural firms tend to get an inordinate share of public attention, largely because they design most of our tallest or otherwise spectacular buildings.

But there are dozens of smaller firms, including many in the suburbs, which collectively carry major responsibility for creating our built environment.

Like the large offices, they are run by a mixed bag of highly talented, mediocre, and nondescript designers and engineers.

Because their work affects all of us, it seemed salutary to close in on one of the better [and, in some ways, typical] of them for a microcosmic look at how they function.

And so, after a bit of shopping around, we descended on a Northfield firm whose partners are Forrest D. Wendt, Charles T. Cedarholm, and William C. Tippens. A series of interesting coincidences brought them together.

All are in their middle 40s and received degrees from the University of Illinois, where none knew either of the others even though their years of study overlapped. All later worked for Charles Stadel & Associates, another firm of modest size in Park Ridge. Each left Stadel at a different time to open tiny one- or two-man offices of their own.

Eventually, all three were forced to face the same dismal fact: Trying to be a lone wolf architect is one of the most difficult enterprises imaginable. While working on one job, you have no free time to hustle up new business. If you're sick for a couple of weeks, it's a disaster.

Faced with those obstacles and others, the disenchanted trio of loners rediscovered each other in 1967 and formed the firm of Wendt, Cedarholm, Tippens, Inc., which today employs four persons in addition to the partners.

"We decided right at the start to spell out areas of authority to avoid conflicts," said Cedarholm. "So Bill is office manager and supervisor of construction, Forrest is in charge of new business, and I handle design."

In practice, however, there is overlapping of responsibility and a free-wheeling sense of informality around the office which is common to small firms.

It is the kind of working environment which seems highly appropriate for the flow of architectural ideas. Contrast it, if you will, with the big downtown shops, where one man may spend a whole year designing and redesigning a rubbish disposal system for a towering megastructure. That kind of labor, as many an architect will tell you, is a pathway to madness and about as creative as playing with mud.

"We bounce ideas off each other," said Tippens, "and we're free of the endless, administrative paper shuffling we'd have to do if we were big."

Unlike New York, Chicago is not bubbling with architectural ferment and dialogue of the sort which might leave a suburban designer feeling out of things. Still, the three partners manage to attend seminars and other events to keep their professional edges well-honed. Tippens enjoys giving slide-illustrated lectures on Chicago's architectural masterworks.

"Perhaps the most important quality we have to sell to potential clients is the thing they're most concerned about, and that's personal attention," said Wendt.

"The client knows with whom he's working because one of us is continuously in charge of a project from start to finish. It's not like a big shop, where somebody new may show up at every meeting. That can be disconcerting."

It is usually neither cheaper nor more expensive to retain a small architectural firm. Fees everywhere are based on a percentage of total construction cost and also vary by building types; the highest percentage fees usually apply to single family houses.

Architects, like doctors and lawyers, are not permitted to advertise [although they can promote themselves in quieter ways]. Wendt, Cedarholm, and Tippens thus spent a lot of time sitting around and nervously cracking their knuckles until the first job came along. It was a church addition.

The chairman of the church's building committee also happened to be board chairman of a suburban park district which shortly afterward needed somebody to design a recreation center. On the strength of their

Ideas flow around a drawing board in the suburban architecture firm founded by partners Forrest

church performance, the architects captured the park district job and were on their way.

Since then, their major projects have included 15 libraries, 15 recreation buildings, 10 office buildings, five industrial structures, 10 houses, 3 restaurants, and a public housing project.

"We believe we've done more municipal libraries than anyone else in the suburban metropolitan area," said Cedarholm. "But we don't want to overemphasize that as a specialty because it might blunt our reputation for versatility."

"And we like to think that our libraries have few common characteristics," said Tippens. "Instead, they're responsive to individual design problems."

"We've tried to develop lasting designs, rather than anything that's modish or farout. We also try very hard for warmth in terms of design, materials, and the way we handle space."

Because all bookshelves in today's small libraries are open to the public, the space handling is more than a bit tricky. Open floor plans with a maximum of flexibility are mandatory, but some areas must carry a feeling of privacy and snugness.

Audio-visual facilities, book-theft detection devices, and computer connections between sharing libraries are among other advances in library science which must either be built in or anticipated as future additions.

A library's facades are almost equally important. In some of our new dreary, flatland suburbs, the library is the only culture symbol in town and deserves to look as handsome outside as within.

But as Cedarholm pointed out, the Northfield firm doesn't spend all of its time exploring the nuances of how to mix people and books. Indeed, their other major specialty has turned out to be recreation buildings, particularly those housing racquetball layouts [both public and for profit]. They've done eight racquetball facilities, and thus probably know as much as anybody about how to physically accommodate the burgeoning sport.

Oddly, there are absolutely no standard specifications for building a racquetball court, except that it be exactly the same size as a handball court [for which use it is interchangeable]. Theoretically, you can construct one with anything from mahogany to marble.

"We're sure some kind of specs will eventually be adopted, though," said Tippens. "Many of the better players immediately detect a difference in 'feel' when they play a new court, and others are even fussy about noise variations in certain sections of a court."

The smacking, twanging, popping noises of racquetball are considered to be highly marketable in the private clubs springing up everywhere.

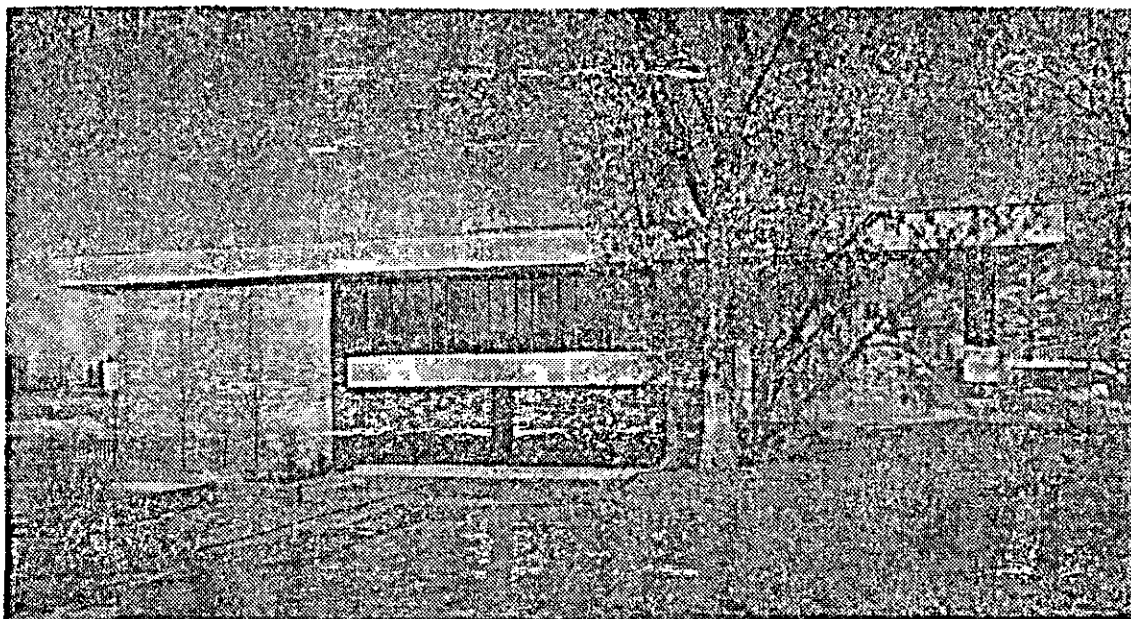

"In the old-time YMCAs, nobody except the players knew what went on inside a handball court," because there was rarely a place provided for people to watch," Tippens recalled.

"Today, when we do a racquetball building, we deliberately design it so the noise of play spills out into the lobby and the spectator gallery. When potential club members come in for a look around, the excitement of all this helps convince them to sign up."

A couple of years ago, promoters got the idea of telecasting the national racquetball championship finals in Las Vegas. When they couldn't figure out how to train cameras on the action from a variety of angles, they came to Wendt, Cedarholm, and Tippens.

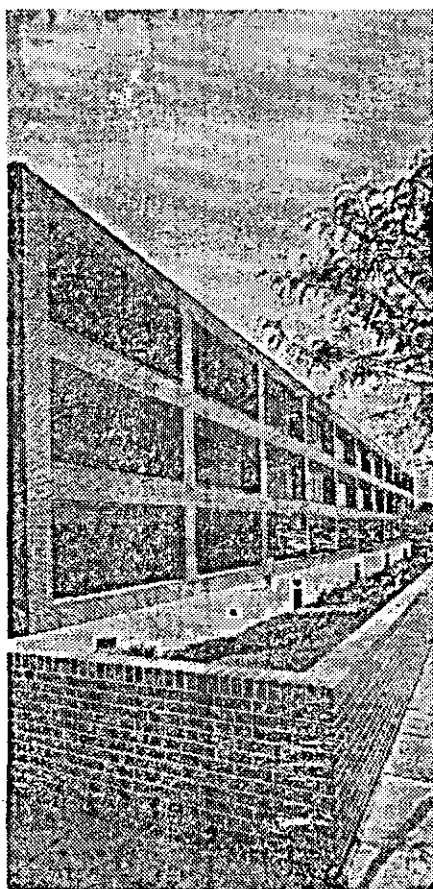

"We designed a demountable, four-wall court constructed of rigid, 7/8-inch glass," said Tippens. "and we were certain it would work." The telecasting plans fell through for other reasons, however, and the marvelous transparent cube never got off the drawing board.

And so it goes among the scores of architects out there in suburbia. They may not be turning out any skyscrapers, but their work has a great impact on the quality of life in the metropolitan area. Let us not forget that the downtown elite corps of architects holds no monopoly on good design and buildings that work the way they're supposed to.

Top honors for a design quartet

Mutual Trust Life Building.

FOUR CHICAGO-AREA architecture firms have won this year's annual "excellence in masonry" awards, presented by the Metropolitan Chicago Masonry Council.

That may seem to have a rather commercial ring to it, but be advised that the council does not fling its bouquets in the crass manner of certain other groups that promote building materials.

A couple of years ago, the council turned over responsibility for judging to the national office of the American Institute of Architects.

It won cheers for that decision, because it meant awards would no longer be dispensed indiscriminately to architects just because they happened to use bricks. Only masonry structures are eligible, of course, but the sole criterion is good design.

The winners, selected from among 48 entries:

- The Perkins & Will Group, Inc., which took top honors in the competition for the Mutual Trust Life Building in Oak Brook, an elegant structure in which brick plays an almost ornamental role despite the crisp simplicity of the basic design;

- Skidmore, Owings & Merrill, for the Percy L. Julian High School, 10330 S. Elizabeth St., a handsomely detailed complex built on a difficult site hemmed in by railroad tracks and the Dan Ryan Expressway;

- The Samuels Group, Inc., of Northbrook, for the contiguous Central Savings and Loan and Ace Hardware buildings at Clark Street and Broadway. In scale and form, the structures stand as little bastions of architectural integrity at the gateway to New Town's commercial vulgarity;

- Barancik, Conte & Associates, for the Wieboldt office building in Evanston, a five-story structure which was cited in part for its compatibility with the surrounding neighborhood.

Judges of the contest, who assembled in Washington, were Chloethiel Woodard Smith, M. Elliott Carroll, and William L. Ensign. All are fellows of the American Institute of Architects.

644 Pine Lane – Proposed Demolition and Construction Schedule

With respect to the schedule, my wife and I are in the early phase of coming up with plans for a new home. We anticipate starting demolition and construction of a new home in the Fall of 2021. We've been told the new construction could be up to 12 - 15 months. Our timing could change as we get into the details, but this is our best estimate at this time.

| Winnetka Historical Society (WHS) Comments on HAIS  | The WHS finds the HAIS complete and agrees that the house is historically significant because of its association with William Aitken. The WHS also agrees that the property is not particularly architecturally significant in terms of its design characteristics, and that damage from the house fire may have irreparably damaged whatever significant characteristics remained (See Attachment B). |

COMMISSION REVIEW

In making its determination regarding the historical and architectural impact of the subject property, the Landmark Preservation Commission shall consider the following:

- the historic and architectural impact study prepared pursuant to the foregoing Section 15.52.050;
- the preliminary property history study prepared pursuant to Section 15.52.040;
- comments of the Winnetka Historical Society on the application and study; and
- any other information, comment or evidence received by the Commission at the impact determination meeting or at the preliminary review meeting.

Prior to making a determination, the Commission must first determine if it finds the Historical Architectural Impact Study (HAIS) complete. If the LPC determines that the HAIS filed by the Applicant is incomplete or otherwise insufficient to enable the LPC to make a determination as to the impact of the proposed demolition, the LPC may direct the Applicant to complete, amend or supplement the report and may continue the impact determination meeting pending the Applicant's filing of a complete application.

If the Commission does find the HAIS complete, a Commission member may make one of the two following motions (a) Demolition Without Delay or (b) Delay of Demolition:

Demolition Without Delay

I make a motion finding that the Historical Architectural Impact Study (HAIS) for 636 Garland Avenue prepared by Benjamin Historic Certifications is complete and that the proposed demolition will not have a significant negative architectural or historical impact on either the Village as a whole or on the immediate neighborhood.

Based upon these findings, the demolition may proceed without a delay.

Delay of Demolition

I make a motion finding that the Historical Architectural Impact Study (HAIS) 636 Garland Avenue prepared by Benjamin Historic Certifications is complete and that the building or structure is considered to be historically or architecturally significant as it meets one or more of the following standards [Commission member should note which of the following standards should be included in the motion]:

- (1) the structure exhibits a high quality of architectural design without regard to the time built or historic associations;
- (2) the structure exhibits a high quality of architectural design that is not the result of a change or a series of changes in the original structure;
- (3) the structure exemplifies an architectural style, construction technique or building type once common in the Village;
- (4) the structure exhibits an unusual, distinctive or eccentric design or construction technique that contributes to the architectural interest of its environs as an accent or counterpart; or
- (5) that the property has been designated a landmark pursuant to Chapter 15.64 of the Village Code, has been included in the most recent Illinois Historic Structure Survey conducted under the auspices of the Illinois Department of Conservation, or has been listed on the National Register of Historic Places or the Illinois Register of Historic Places.

The Commission also finds that the proposed demolition will have a significant negative architectural or historical impact on either the Village as a whole or on the immediate neighborhood due to the following architecturally or historically significant aspects of the structure:

1. [Commission member to fill in]

2. _____ -

Preservation alternatives to the demolition of the structure include:

1. *[Commission member to fill in].

The Commission continues to encourage interest in and understanding of preservation in the whole of the Village as it may be applicable to the demolition permit request under review and to encourage and provide means of communication and exchange of views between the applicants and the owners and occupants of properties within two hundred fifty (250) feet of the subject property.

Based upon these finding, the demolition must be delayed for a period of 60 days in order to explore alternatives to total demolition.

William Aitken

William Aitken was living in Bannockburn, Illinois at the time this building was constructed, so while he identified himself as the owner of the building on the construction permit, it is unlikely that he lived in the house. The first resident of the house was Ray D. Smith.

<sup>1</sup> Due to COVID-19 restrictions, the Cook County Recorder of Deeds Office was closed during this project. Researching the chain of title prior to 1990 was limited to permits from the Village of Winnetka address files, telephone directories and other information from the Winnetka Historical Society, and online searches.

Ray Devere Smith (1879-1970)

Blanche Ethel Hinckley Smith (1880-1965)

Resided in the house from 1925-1931

Ray Devere Smith was born in Plano, Illinois on October 22, 1879 to Freeman J. and Inez L. Smith. Ray was raised in Aurora after his parents' divorce, and was living with his mother there and working as a shipping clerk at the time of the 1900 Federal Census.<sup>2</sup>

On September 24, 1903, Ray Smith married Blanche Elizabeth Hinckley in Aurora, who had been born in that city in 1880<sup>3</sup> to Charles Clifford and Mary Stothard Hinckley. At the time of the 1910 Census, Ray and Blanche were living at 1543 E. 66th Place<sup>4</sup> in Chicago's Woodlawn neighborhood with their son Clifford Hinckley Smith, who was born on November 17, 1905.<sup>5</sup> Ray Smith was working as the Officer Manager for a publishing company. By the 1920 Census, the Smith family was living in the Edgewater neighborhood at 6358 N. Wayne Street, and Ray was the Credit Manager for an engineering school, the Chicago Engineering Works.<sup>6</sup> By 1922, Ray was not only the general manager of the Chicago Engineering Works, he was also the president of the Ravenswood Industrial Baseball League, which was composed of teams representing Ravenswood's industrial plants.<sup>7</sup>

Ray and Blanche Smith moved to the home at 636 Garland in 1925, and were still residing there at the time of the 1930 Census with their maid, Emma Throop.<sup>8</sup> By this time, Ray was listed as the proprietor of a correspondence school, and the house was valued at $50,000, the equivalent of approximately $778,000 in 2020. According to the 1940 Census, the Smiths had moved on to a house at 3001 Simpson Street in Evanston, where they lived with a maid and her daughter.<sup>9</sup>

The Chicago Engineering Works was incorporated in 1916, and by 1921 was billing itself as the largest correspondence school of electrical engineering in the world.<sup>10</sup> It appears that the Chicago Engineering Works became the Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Institute sometime

Smith retired as president of the Industrial Training Institute in 1938<sup>11</sup> and was succeeded by his son Clifford, with Ray becoming chairman of the school's board of directors, retiring in 1960.<sup>1213</sup>

As the descendent of one of General Sherman's soldiers, he amassed a collection of some 8,000 books with his son Clifford beginning in 1903. In 1961, Ray and Clifford Smith donated their collection to Knox College in Galesburg, Illinois, where it remains as the Ray D. Smith Collection.<sup>14</sup> stenographer prior to her marriage.<sup>46</sup> The Hellmuths had three children: Stephen Theodore, born October 24, 1912; John Nelson, born June 24, 1915; and Patricia Margareta, born July 3, 1920.

From 1911 until his retirement, Gustavus Hellmuth worked primarily as a general claims attorney for railroad companies, including the Chicago North Shore & Milwaukee, Chicago Rapid Transit, Chicago Aurora & Elgin, and the Chicago South Shore & South Bend railroads.<sup>47</sup> Hellmuth was also heavily involved in community activities, serving as Treasurer and First Vice President of the Civic Museum Association of Chicago, Secretary of the Wilmette Plan Commission and Board of Appeals, President of the Claims Association of America Transit Association, Chairman of the transit section of the National Safety Council.<sup>48</sup>

From the 1920s through the 1940s, the Hellmuth family moved around the North Shore. The 1920 Census found them residing at 913 13th Street in Wilmette,<sup>49</sup> and by 1922 they had moved to 1705 Forest Avenue in Evanston, where they remained until around 1927 when they moved across the street to 1700 Forest Avenue. 1935, the Hellmuths were living at 1636 Forest Avenue in Wilmette, and the following year they were residing at 636 Garland in Winnetka. The 1940 Census shows the entire Hellmuth family in residence, and the home valued at $25,000 (equivalent to approximately $464,000 in 2020), reflecting the decline in real estate values as a result of the Great Depression. Grown sons Stephen and John were working as a coal salesman and accountant for a public utility, respectively. Stephen, a graduate of Knox College in Galesburg, was married that year to Gertrude Hardin in Lake Forest.<sup>50</sup> John graduated from Harvard and married Vera Willis in 1949.<sup>51</sup> Patricia graduated from Colorado College with her future husband, Harry Watson of Winnetka.<sup>52</sup> Patricia and Harry were engaged in 1942 and remained together during Harry's service in World War II, marrying in 1946 at Winnetka's Christ Church.<sup>53</sup> By 1947, Gustavus and Hulda Hellmuth had moved on to 240 Forest Street in Winnetka.<sup>54</sup> The couple retired to Ocean Springs, Mississippi in the 1950s.<sup>55</sup>

The original construction permit for the building located at 636 Garland Avenue, dated December 30, 1923, calls for construction of a 67' wide, 32' deep and 30' high frame and brick veneer house with eight rooms and three baths. William Aitken is listed as owner, architect, builder, carpenter and mason. The electrician was Lakeshore Elect. in Wilmette. The lot size was

90' X 234' and the building was set one foot from the west line. William Aitken signed the permit application, listing his address at 11 S. LaSalle Street; at the time, Room 1528 was his work address in Chicago.<sup>78</sup>

The center-entry house sits squarely in the middle of its 90' wide lot facing north and Garland Avenue, accessed from the street by a concrete sidewalk leading to the front entry and an asphalt driveway running to the rear of the property with a detached garage along the east side of the lot.<sup>79</sup> A stone paver walkway runs east – west at the east side of the property and connects the driveway to the concrete sidewalk, leading to the front entry.

Major modifications to the house are relatively few. On the interior, the kitchen was remodeled in 1972. On the exterior, a bay window was added to the south elevation of the kitchen and the roof was replaced. The fire that broke out in the master bedroom on the second floor of the house and subsequent fire suppression efforts caused damage to the interior of the house.<sup>80</sup>

Exterior:

The blond brick house stands at two stories, and has an irregular footprint, although it is largely T-shaped. The front (north) elevation faces Garland Avenue. It is symmetrical, with the only exception being a large arched window on the west side of the first floor. A covered front entry porch projects from the building at the center front entry. Ornamentation is limited to blond brick lintels above the first floor windows, black shutters, and restrained black wrought iron railings on Juliet balconies on the east and west ends of the second floor.

Fenestration on the front façade consists of five pairs of divided French doors and a large arched window on the west side on the first floor, and five divided double-hung windows with black shutters and two Juliet balconies on the east and west sides of the second floor. Two double-hung windows on the west side and the Juliet balcony window on the west side are boarded.

The front entry is Classically-inspired. Two blond brick steps lead to a concrete stoop. The front porch projects from the façade. Paired smooth tapered columns with Ionic capitals support a flat roof with an interesting balustrade of turned balusters and paneled rectangular corner pieces. The columns flank the front entry paneled door and large sidelights with graceful trim forming three ovals on each side. Pilasters with Ionic capitals that match the columns and brass lanterns flank the doorway.

The asphalt roof is shallow hipped and enclosed eaves broadly overhang the building. Identical blond brick chimneys project from the roof on the east and west elevations. Downspouts with scupper boxes run along the east and west ends of the building.

The south or rear elevation faces the back yard. Windows on the second floor are boarded. A window on the west side of the first floor is also boarded. An enclosed porch that appears to be an addition (no permit was found for the construction of a porch in the permit file) extends from the east side of the rear elevation. Three sides of the porch are covered with jalousie windows and a door in the porch leads to the back yard. A divided double-hung window with a fan light above and smaller versions of the same sidelights on the front entry appears on the second floor and looks out from the second floor stair landing. Two small casement windows on the first floor look into the first floor front hall powder room and closet. A door leads into the back servants' closet and kitchen. The first floor kitchen features a 1986 bay window with casement windows and a copper pagoda-style roof. The east and west elevations feature two double-hung windows on the second floor and there is a large black trellis attached to the first floor of the east elevation wall.

Interior:

First Floor

The front center entry opens to a shallow entry hall that leads directly to a distinctive split staircase that rises from the first floor to the second floor. Elliptical arches with trim lead to the living room on the east and the dining room on the west. A non-historic light fixture lights the entry hall. Walls are plaster and the floor is historic strip oak. Doors at the south wall behind the staircase lead to a small hall closet on the east side and a hallway on the west side which leads to a powder room on the east and the service area including the kitchen on the west. Doors, trim and hardware are historic.

The living room has three pairs of historic divided French doors with cremone hardware and storm windows on the north wall that look out to the front yard and Garland Avenue. Centered on the east wall is a brick fireplace with the mantel removed. The west wall has one pair of French doors that leads to a porch with a concrete floor, jalousie windows and a jalousie door leading to the back yard. The walls in the living room are navy blue painted plaster with historic trim, crown and base molding. The floor is historic strip oak and the ceiling is plaster. Paint is peeling from the ceiling as a result of fire suppression efforts. The southern side of the west wall features a historic inset arched shelving unit.

The dining room has two pairs of historic divided French doors with cremone hardware and storm windows on the north wall that face Garland Avenue. A historic crystal chandelier hangs from the center of the ceiling. Two sconces are on the south wall. A swinging door leads to the service area of the home, including the butler's pantry, hall, kitchen, back staircase and door leading to the exterior of the building. The southern side of the east wall in the dining room features the same inset arched shelving unit as in the living room. Walls are navy blue painted plaster with historic wood trim, the ceiling is plaster, and the floor is historic strip oak. Historic crown, base molding, wall and window trim are painted white.

A square entry with divided French doors on the west side of the dining room leads to what may have been a library or study. The walls are painted paneling and the ceiling is coffered. Two flush mount historic light fixtures are mounted to the coffering. The south side of the room has built-in cabinets and shelves along with two non-historic casement windows that are boarded. The north side of the room features an arched window that faces north. The floor is historic strip oak and the ceiling is plaster. Trim and hardware are historic; it is not clear if paneling, built-in cabinetry, shelves, and coffering are historic.

The service area of the house is reached by a hall at the south end of the first floor staircase and from a swinging door in the dining room. A butler's pantry with historic painted black cabinets leads to a hallway that connects with the hall at the south end of the staircase. The kitchen is accessed from this hallway, as is a small hall and closet with stairs leading to the back yard. The non-historic kitchen faces south, and a large non-historic bay window with casement windows looks over the back yard. A historic service staircase with original wood stairs leads to the second floor.

Second Floor:

The second floor is also accessed from the front split staircase. The front stairs lead to a landing that features a very handsome historic divided double-hung window with a fan light above and sidelights that match the front door sidelights. The staircase then splits, and rises to the east and west sides of the second floor. Navy blue wallpaper with a white bamboo chinoiserie pattern covers the second floor landing wall. Historic sconces flank the distinctive window at the landing and a light fixture hangs from the ceiling. The master bedroom is on the east side; three bedrooms are on the west side, including a maid's room.

Benjamin Historic Certifications did not observe the second floor, however the owner of the house provided photographs and two videos, and this description is based upon them. The master bedroom is on the east side of the house. A fireplace with a historic mantel is centered on the east wall, flanked by divided double-hung windows. A historic chandelier is suspended from the ceiling. French doors lead to Juliet balconies that are boarded on the north and south walls. The master bath is located on the north side of the master suite. The west side of the second floor features three bedrooms, a linen closet, a back staircase and three bathrooms. Doors, trim, floors, and hardware appear to be original. Several door handles were missing, a considerable amount of ash was observed on the floors, water and smoke damage was evident, and several sections of the ceilings were opened, most likely by fire suppression efforts. The basement was not observed.

The two-story blond brick house at 636 Garland Avenue is designed in the Italian Renaissance Revival style. The formal, harmonious and symmetrical front has little ornamentation, other than brick lintels and a Classically-inspired front entry. The house has a low-hipped roof with broad overhangs, and fenestration, while not arched, is larger on the first floor with French doors and smaller on the second floor with double-hung windows. Juliet balconies bear minimal wrought iron railings.

Italian Renaissance Revival Architecture

The architecture of Italy during the Renaissance period inspired the Renaissance Revival style, that was popular in the United States from the early 1890s until the late 1920s, mostly in major metropolitan areas. From the late 19th Century through the 1930s, many American architects and their clients visited Italy, so they had first-hand familiarity with Italian villas and palazzos. Italian Renaissance buildings designed by architects who had visited or studied in Italy mimicked their Italian predecessors quite closely. The close resemblance was also made possible because improved printing technology made photographs of these buildings easily accessible to the reading public. This authenticity distinguishes Italian Renaissance Revival buildings from the Italianate buildings that preceded them. Italianate buildings were based on pattern book drawings by builders who had no first-hand visual experience with Italian buildings.

Unlike Italianate houses, which were generally built of wood, Italian Renaissance Revival buildings were typically constructed of brick, masonry or stone. The typical Italian Renaissance Revival house has a low-pitched hipped or flat roof. The hipped roofs were often, but not always, covered in red or green ceramic tile; the flat-roofed type sometimes has a prominent cornice and roofline balustrade. Upper-story windows tended to be smaller and less elaborate than the large, sometimes arched openings beneath them on the first floor. Second-floor windows were frequently designed in bands set under a deep cornice and sometimes separated from the first floor by a string course, suggesting Prairie Style influence on Italian Renaissance design. In other Italian Renaissance Revival houses, second floor windows are double-hung, resembling the sash on contemporary Colonial Revival structures, like the house at 636 Garland Avenue. The houses are often, but not always, symmetrical. Classical detailing, including columns, and fanlight windows, is common. Trim is generally made of stone. Some examples of Italian Renaissance Revival houses are long and low, others are tall and stately.

Interest in the Italian Renaissance Revival style began in the United States with construction of the Villard Houses in New York (McKim, Mead & White, 1883). One of the most famous examples of Italian Renaissance Revival architecture is The Breakers, built in Newport Rhode Island by Cornelius Vanderbilt and designed by Richard Morris Hunt in 1883. Hunt was the first American to enroll as a student at the École des Beaux-Arts in Paris and one of the architects selected to design buildings for the Colombian Exposition in Chicago in 1893. The Beaux-Arts style of architecture became enormously influential throughout the country after the fair. Beaux-Arts designs, modeled after ancient Classical buildings (which previously influenced Renaissance architects) include formal massing, the use of stone, symmetrical facades, flat or low pitched roofs and classical adornment reminiscent of ancient Greek and Roman architecture. Popular Beaux-Arts features included paired columns, arched windows, prominent entryways – often rich with classical detailing and applied ornamentation. Renaissance Revival architecture includes elements of the same details.

Other celebrated residential examples of Italian Renaissance Revival architecture of the late 1890s include Vizcaya in Miami, Florida (Frances Burrell Hoffman, 1899, who studied at the École des Beaux Arts) and the Isabelle Stewart Gardner House (now museum) in Boston, Massachusetts (William T. Sears, 1899). Edith Wharton wrote about the Italian Renaissance style in her popular 1904 book Italian Villas and their Gardens, illustrated by Maxfield Parrish.<sup>81</sup>

Italian Renaissance Revival style in Chicago was featured in articles in popular building magazines, including V.L. Sherman, “Characteristics of Italian Style,” American Home Builder (Chicago: June, 1927) and the Home Builders Catalog, National Building Publications (Chicago and New York) 1929. On the North Shore, the style was not as popular as other revival styles, and is considerably less common than Craftsman, Tudor Revival or Colonial Revival styles.

Italian Renaissance Revival style steadily declined in popularity throughout the 1930s, and was rarely used after 1940. Italian Renaissance houses in Winnetka include 480 Sheridan Road and 1110 Pine Street, with their Classical-inspired entries, and 871 Burr Avenue and 859 Burr Avenue, all with stone or stucco walls, some with arches over windows on the first floors, simple punched windows on the second floors, and large roof overhangs.

Architects of 636 Garland Avenue

William Aitken

The 1924 permit lists William Aitken as the owner, architect, builder, carpenter and mason of the house at 636 Garland Avenue. William Aitken was born in Scotland on June 10, 1878. His parents were John Aitken and Agnes McPherson Aitkin. He married Margaret Donaldson in 1902. In 1903, their son John was born, and the family emigrated to America.<sup>82</sup> The couple's other three children, William, Jr., Margaret and Jane were born in Illinois.

Anecdotal evidence suggests that Aitken studied architecture or apprenticed with an architect in Scotland before emigrating to America, but that was not been confirmed.<sup>83</sup> He was not registered or listed as an architect in Illinois through the American Institute of Architects. While Aitken identified himself as a contractor, builder and carpenter, it is clear that he designed his homes along the North Shore and possibly also later in Bannockburn, as well as built those homes, often living in them for a short period of time and then selling them to new owners. He was a master of publicity, advertising in local and Chicago newspapers and frequently contributing to local newspaper Winnetka Talk. Unfortunately, few, if any of those advertisements cited addresses, so many of the homes designed by Aitken along the North Shore are unknown, but warrant further study.

In 1910 the Aitken family was living and owning the home at 114 Cherry Street in Winnetka. Aitken's occupation is listed as a carpenter. In 1912, William was one of the founding members of the Evanston and North Shore Scottish Society in Evanston, formed to promote knowledge and literature of the Scottish culture.<sup>84</sup> The Winnetka telephone directory dated July, 1917 shows William Aitken as living on Euclid Avenue near Lake Street, and the same page bears the following advertisement:

Real estate transactions during the years of 1908 and 1913 show Margaret buying or selling property on the North Shore; it isn't clear if she was actively involved with the transactions or William placed the transactions in her name. Margaret died on September 26, 1917 and the funeral was held in the family home at 183 Lake Street in Hubbard Woods.<sup>85</sup>

The following year, William married a woman named Florence Malleville Smith (daughter of Elias Smith and Bertha Van Sittert) in Calhoun, Iowa on June 14, 1918. William is identified on the marriage record as a builder living in Hubbard Woods and Florence was listed as living in Winnetka.<sup>86</sup> On September 12, 1918 Aitken registered for the draft and he listed his home address as 183 Lake Street in Glencoe and his work address as 1065 Gage Street in Hubbard Woods.

In 1922, Aitken was a member of the North Shore Real Estate Board of Suburban Chicago, Glencoe, Hubbard, Woods, Wilmette, and Winnetka, Illinois. In that year Aitken was listed at "Gage St., Winnetka, IL."<sup>87</sup> Based upon the number of advertisements in local and Chicago newspapers, it is likely that Aitken built and designed a number of residences in Winnetka and along the North Shore that have not been attributed to him.

In 1922, Aitken acquired a 20-acre parcel of land near Deerfield and built a home which he named "Bannockburn." The home, located today at 1760 Telegraph Road, was large and included a gardeners cottage, garage, sunken gardens, artificial lake, and stables. In 1923, Aitken purchased sixty-three acres from Mr. and Mrs. John C. Huell in the area adjacent to his home, intending to develop the property and build large country estates for members of his bridge group and country club. Aitken designed an area called "Bannockburnwood," that included the Bannockburn club house (now a private residence at 1405 Telegraph Road); another area called "Bannockburnfields" was the site of several homes. Aitken's original master plan covered 110 acres and called for homes to be built on no less than one-acre plots; the community today has since expanded those requirements to a minimum of two acres.<sup>88</sup> At some point, the Aitkens decided to sell their home and they moved into the gardeners cottage on their property.<sup>89</sup>

The first homes in the area were built in 1924, and by 1929, the community filed for incorporation and included 30 families living on Meadow Lane, Robin Road, Aitken Drive, Telegraph Road and in the Wilmot Road-Sunset Lane area.<sup>90</sup> Early residents were active in developing the community, serving as trustees on the village board, organizing a school, creating zoning ordinances and organizing numerous charities.<sup>91</sup> Today the Village is known as “Bannockburn,” and it encompasses over 1,300 acres.

The early days of the Village of Bannockburn are documented in the book Bannockburn Beginnings by Grace Nosek, published for the first Bannockburn Commemorative Day on May 29, 1972.<sup>92</sup> The book was recently updated in note form as Bannockburn Beginnings Continued, published for the 75th Diamond Anniversary, October 16, 2004. The Village of Bannockburn notes on its website that “[t]he original intent of William Aitken – to create a residential community with homes on large tracts of land within a rural atmosphere comprising natural landscapes and open spaces – is preserved to this day, due to the commitment of the residents of the Village of Bannockburn, past and present.”<sup>93</sup> Development slowed during the Depression and resumed after World War II. Aitken worked out of his house on Telegraph Road during that time period, selling vacant lots, speculative and custom houses. Florence Aitken was listed on several advertisements. While a survey was not performed for this report, most of the original homes planned and designed by William Aitken in Bannockburn remain extant and intact, including many interior spaces.<sup>94</sup>

On September 3, 1939, Aitken was on board the British liner S.S. Athenia the day that Britain declared war on Germany. Eight hours after the declaration, the ship was torpedoed off the coast of Ireland. While German officials initially denied responsibility, after the Nuremberg Trials in 1948, German authorities acknowledged that their country's submarines attacked and sank the ship. World War II, and in total, 117 civilian passengers and crew members were killed, including 28 American citizens. The loss of American life led to German military fears that the incident would bring the United States into the war. The action was condemned as a war crime, and Winston Churchill, in his first speech as First Lord of the Admiralty, called the sinking of the ship “unhuman.”

The story gripped the United States public, and indeed, the entire world. At least seven passengers on the ship were from the Chicago area, including William Aitken. He was 60 years old at the time of the sinking, and was described in an extensive Chicago Tribune article as a “wealthy real estate operator and builder... [who] developed the subdivision of Bannockburn, north of Deerfield and west of Highland Park.”<sup>96</sup> Aitken was one of the ship’s 1,347 passengers who were rescued by the American cargo ship City of Flint.<sup>97</sup> The picture below shows an elderly woman being helped aboard the City of Flint after spending the night in one of Athenia’s lifeboats. Aitken wrote a poem about his experience that is framed and hanging in the Bannockburn Village Hall (Appendix).

known as the home where the movie “Home Alone” was filmed; 815 Lincoln Avenue, and 276 Forest (attributed; possibly along with three other contiguous properties at Forest Street and Ridge Avenue).<sup>100</sup> As previously noted, Aitken frequently published the development and sale of numerous properties in Winnetka but did not list addresses, so it is likely that there are other Aitken-designed and/or built houses in the Village.

William Aitken was also the owner of a mixed - use commercial and residential building in Hubbard Woods called the “Aitken Block,” that was moved to its present location at the corner of Green Bay Road and Gage Street to make room for a park. Aitken bought what was known as the Forberg building, which contained a grocery, the Hubbard Woods Post Office, Odhner’s Tailor shop, a real estate office and two apartments, redesigned it, and personally bore the cost of moving the building.<sup>101</sup>

While William Aitken may not have been licensed as an architect, his remarkable success as a designer, builder, village planner and developer make him a significant figure in the local history of Winnetka, the north suburbs of Chicago, and Illinois.

John Gresham

Architect John Gresham designed the 1972 re-model of the kitchen at 636 Garland. John Fuller Gresham III was born on January 10, 1932 in Knoxville, Tennessee. He graduated from the University of Cincinnati with a B.S. in Architecture, where he was a member of the Scarab Architectural Honorary Fraternity. He worked at Fred Manly Architects in Knoxville prior to his service in the U.S. Army as an illustrator for the Surgeon General at Walter Reed Army Medical Center in Washington D.C.

Later, Gresham worked for two architectural firms in Richmond, Virginia, and was a member of the Virginia chapter of the American Institute of Architects. In 1963 he moved to Dallas Texas and opened his business as John Gresham Designer. While there, he was a member of the American Institute of Building Design, the Society of Professional Building Designers, and the Texas Association of Interior Designers. He was responsible for the re-design and remodeling of numerous residences in Dallas, primarily in the Park Cities neighborhood. Gresham appeared twelve times in House & Garden magazine as well as British House & Garden.<sup>102</sup>

Fred D. Polito

Architect Fred Polito designed the 1986 one-story bay window to back of building. Mr. Polito graduated from New Trier High School, and received a Bachelor’s degree in architecture from the University of Illinois in 1970. He is licensed to practice in Illinois, Indiana and Wisconsin. He began his practice, Fred Polito Architect, in 1974, and is currently listed at 1544 Shermer

Road in Northbrook, Illinois. According to the company website, Polito designed many residential buildings, including new residences and additions, along the North Shore of Chicago, and all over the country, as well as commercial buildings throughout Illinois and Indiana. Mr. Polito is also an accomplished sketch artist.<sup>103</sup> He retired from the practice of architecture two years ago.<sup>104</sup>

Fred D. Polito was the son of architect Frank Polito, who designed many local area schools and was acknowledged as an authority on school design and construction. Frank Polito was born in Hurley, Wisconsin, in 1908, and graduated from the Illinois Institute of Technology. He was a member of the American Institute of Architects. Frank Polito designed the house at 545 Oak Street in Winnetka in the late 1930s, listed on the National Register of Historic Places. He died at 59 years of age in Evanston.<sup>105</sup>

Builders of 636 Garland Avenue

William Aitken

William Aitken was the original builder of the house at 636 Garland Avenue. See information about him included in “Architects 636 Garland Avenue,” supra.

Recommended Builders

Recommended Builders of Evanston, Illinois installed the 1986 bay window. No information was found about this company.

Lindholm Roofing

The Lindholm Roofing company installed a new roof on the house in 2016. Lindholm Roofing is a three generation family-owned and operated company that has been in business since 1949. Founder Thomas H. Lindholm started the company in 1949, and was later joined by his son and grandchildren. The main office is located at 3588 N. Milwaukee Avenue in Chicago, and the company has additional locations in Arlington Heights, Deerfield, Elmhurst, Libertyville, Park Ridge, Oak Lawn, Oak Park, Orland Park, Schaumburg and Wilmette.<sup>106</sup>

Landmark Status of the Property

The house located at 636 Garland Avenue is not listed on the National Register of Historic Places, either individually or within a historic district. It is not a Winnetka Landmark, and was not identified as part of the Illinois Historic Structures Survey conducted between 1971 and 1975. The property was not surveyed as part of the 1990 Survey of Winnetka performed by Benjamin Historic Certifications.

Evaluation of Historic Significance

The house at 636 Garland Avenue has historic significance because it was designed and built by William Aitken, a prominent designer, builder, real estate developer and planner. The owners of the home were successful and accomplished, like most residents of Winnetka, but were not particularly distinguished in their fields. The historical significance of this house rests mostly on its association with William Aitken.

Evaluation of Architectural Significance

The house has minor architectural significance. It is a good example of simplified Italian Renaissance Revival architecture, which is not common in Winnetka, but it lacks many of the ornamentation that is characteristic of more elaborate examples, including arched first floor openings.

Evaluation of Neighborhood Impact

Allowing demolition of the house at 636 Garland Avenue would probably not have a deleterious effect on the streetscape. There have been three demolitions on the street, and many, if not most, of the other houses have received substantial additions and modifications. While demolition would regrettably remove a historic house in its original location, Garland Avenue has seen numerous changes over the years.

Summary Opinion

It is the opinion of Benjamin Historic Certifications that the house at 636 Garland Avenue has historic significance due to its association with William Aitken, but that is not especially architecturally significant. Other than its front entry, and rear stair landing window, the detailing gracing the exterior is not as high style as that characterizing several other Italian Renaissance Revival houses in Winnetka, such as 480 Sheridan Road or 1180 Oakley Avenue; nor is it a clear example of the Prairie-influenced Italian Renaissance Revival houses like the one at 1152 Chatfield Road in Winnetka. The interior has a greater number of high style features, such as an elaborate wood split staircase, paneled wall treatment and built-in cabinetry in the living room and dining room, and a handsome fireplace in the second floor master suite. The location of the split staircase, so close to the front entrance, however, is not as elegantly situated as would be found in comparable houses. Unfortunately, the condition of the house is difficult to assess because of damage suffered in the May 2020 fire, and the condition, in this case, impacts its design because of missing windows, smoke and water problems.

Married Same Time, Same Day

Golden wedding of Clifford H. Smith's parents and of his wife's parents recently were celebrated on the same day.

That's no surprise since both the Ray D. Smiths and the F. M. Simmondses Jr. were married on the same day—Sept. 24, 1903. What's more, the two couples were married at exactly the same time on that day—8 p. m.

Double Celebration

Only difference was that the Smiths were married in Aurora while the Simmondses were wed in Chicago, said Mrs. Clifford Smith, Glenview.

The double anniversary was celebrated with a reception and dinner at Winnetka Woman's club.

Ray D. Smith was born in 1879 in Peoria. Former president of the Industrial Training Institute, 2150 Lawrence av., he now is chairman of the institute's board. Mrs. Smith, the former Blanche Hinckley, was born in Aurora in 1880. They live in Skokie.

Advertising Firm Founder

F. M. Simmonds Jr. was born in Indianapolis in 1882 and is founder and former president of Simmonds & Simmonds Advertising, 422 S. Dearborn st. Mrs. Simmonds, the former Helen Burnside, was born in Chicago in 1887. They live in Winnetka.

The elder Smiths have three grandchildren — Clifford Smith Jr., now attending Harvard graduate business school; Kenneth M. Smith, stationed at Fort Lewis, Wash., with the 44th army division, and William D. Smith, senior at New Trier Township High school.

Northbrook Pair Give Books

A collection of Civil war material, including 8000 books, has been donated to Knox college, Galesburg, by Ray D. Smith and his son, Clifford H., both of Northbrook.

Almost 60 years in the building, the collection includes 800,000 index cards covering 40 years of the "Confederate Veteran," a journal published in Tennessee from 1902 to 1932.

Collection Is General

In describing the collection Ray, explained that it is general rather than specialized.

"While it contains a fair number of books on Lincoln, for example, we never specialized on Lincoln," he said. "The collection revolves around the military rather than the political aspects of the war."

Current centennial publications, historical journals, and special periodicals from all over the nation are also part of the collection.

Ray's interest in the Civil war dates back to a book his mother gave him when he was 8 years old. The volume was entitled "The Life of General Grant in Words of One Syllable." He started collecting in 1903, and as a result of his research, he presently is writing a book called "Prisons, North and South."

Native of Peoria

A native of Peoria, Kendall county, Ray, who is 82, said his grandfather served in the Union army as a teamster with Sherman's forces. Smith formerly was president of the L. I. Cooke schools, which later became the Industrial Training Institute.

Clifford, co-donor of the collection, has been president of the institute, at 2150 Lawrence av., since 1938. Neither he nor his father attended Knox.

A graduate of Northwestern University, the younger Smith said Knox was selected as a permanent site for the collection after a survey of facilities at several other college and universities.

Transportation for the collection from Smith's Chicago office to Galesburg was donated by the Doherty Transfer company of Galesburg.

Inspecting part of collection of more than 8,000 books on the Civil war which they presented to Knox college are Ray D. Smith (left) and his son, Clifford, of Northbrook. Collection also includes 800,000 index cards on Civil war material.

Canadian fighter pilot escaped German captors in WWII

He kept almost-daily log of his wartime experiences in Europe and Middle East

By E.A. Torriero
Tribune staff reporter

Friends called him colonel, but John Wilburn Garland was modest when he talked of his experience as a Canadian fighter pilot in World War II, friends and family said.

"He was just this ace pilot and rarely talked about it," said his second wife, Susan Boatman-Garland.

Mr. Garland, 83, of Winnetka, died Wednesday, March 29, at Midwest Hospice & Palliative Care Center in Skokie, following a months-long bout with prostate cancer.

Born in Richmond, Ontario, Mr. Garland received a bachelor's degree in chemical engineering from Queen's University in Ontario and a master's in aeronautical engineering from the U.S. Air Force Institute of Technology at Dayton, Ohio, his family said.

He joined the Royal Canadian Air Force, became a combat pilot and eventually earned the rank of colonel, according to a military history supplied by his family.

In World War II, he flew various aircraft—including Spitfires and Tempests—in Europe and the Middle East for the No. 80 Royal Air Force Fighter Squadron, family members said. He was known for zeroing in on ground transport convoys and destroying them from the air, his wife said. He kept an almost daily log of his experiences that the family retained.

After one dangerous mission in January 1945, he returned to find a medal hanging over his bunk. A month later, Mr. Garland found trouble while on a mission over Germany, his notes read.

"Weather not too good," he wrote in a diary entry dated Feb. 8, 1945. "Then in eve . . . met by [gunfire] and bailed out. Captured and taken to jail south of Rhein . . . bread and coffee."

For weeks, according to his diary, he was held in a German war compound, recording events on an almost daily basis. Mr. Garland tells of escaping while on a march by rolling off the road into the woods in April 1945 and of surviving on the run by living off villagers' handouts, he wrote.

"Froze last night," he wrote on April 17. "Bags of activity. Machine gun and mortar fire on all sides."

Days later, he wrote, Allied forces found him and he was flown out of Germany in late April.

After the war, Mr. Garland held a variety of engineering and administrative positions with the Canadian Air Force, according to his family, while sometimes piloting fighter planes in training missions.

After his first wife, Dorothy Whitney, died, he met his second wife in September 2003 at a funeral in Toronto. They married a year later and he moved to Winnetka to live with her.

"He went to his first ballet and I learned baseball," Boatman-Garland said. "We were so much in love."

Other survivors include a daughter, Nancy Keith; two sons, Dr. William John and Murray David; and six grandchildren.

A service is planned for May 27 in Prescott, Ontario.

History Program at Winnetka Library: The Secret City with Susan Morrison Garland

Winnetka resident Susan Morrison Garland describes growing up near Oak Ridge, Tennessee, the birthplace of a top secret government project

By Winnetka-Northfield Public Library District, Neighbor
Mar 3, 2015 3:53 pm CT | Updated Mar 4, 2015 11:28 am CT

Winnetka Library on Sunday, March 22 at 2:00 p.m.

In this program, Morrison Garland explains what it was like to grow up just 17 miles from the lush valleys that suddenly gave way to house a white secrecy-shrouded city. Oak Ridge was a part of the Manhattan Project, one of the largest and most clandestine U. S. wartime projects in history, and forever became known as The Secret City.

In the early 1940s, the U.S. government quietly acquired over 60,000 acres of land in East Tennessee for a top secret program to develop the atomic bomb.

The pride of the Scotch-Irish Americans who populated the area was that their word was their bond, part of the reason Oak Ridge, Tennessee was selected for this world-changing project.

Morrison Garland is an eighth-generation Roane County Tennessean. She writes stories based on historical happenings in the South. She began writing stories in childhood, and her work was published by age 16.

After graduation from the University of Tennessee, she began her career in Atlanta with NCR Corp., installing Georgia Tech's first computer. Her career brought her to Chicago, first with General Electric and then AT&T. Now retired, Ms. Garland lives in Winnetka, Illinois, and devotes her time to writing - a longtime dream realized.

Although writing is her main passion, she is also a student of architecture and landscape design, and is active in many community organizations.

Morrison Garland is a member of The Winnetka Fortnightly writers group, the Rehabilitation Institute of Chicago Women's Board, and the Christ Church of Winnetka Annual Rummage Sale Steering Committee.

The Winnetka Library is located at 768 Oak Street in Winnetka. Register for the program online at winnetkalibrary.org, or call 847-446-7220.

Dear Mr. Marx,

The Winnetka Historical Society has reviewed Benjamin Historic Certifications thorough research of the property at 636 Garland Court. We agree with the assessment that the property has significance due to its association with William Aitken. In addition, we agree that the property is not particularly architecturally significant in terms of its design characteristics, and that the damage suffered as a result of the May 2020 fire may have irreparably damaged what significant characteristics otherwise remained.

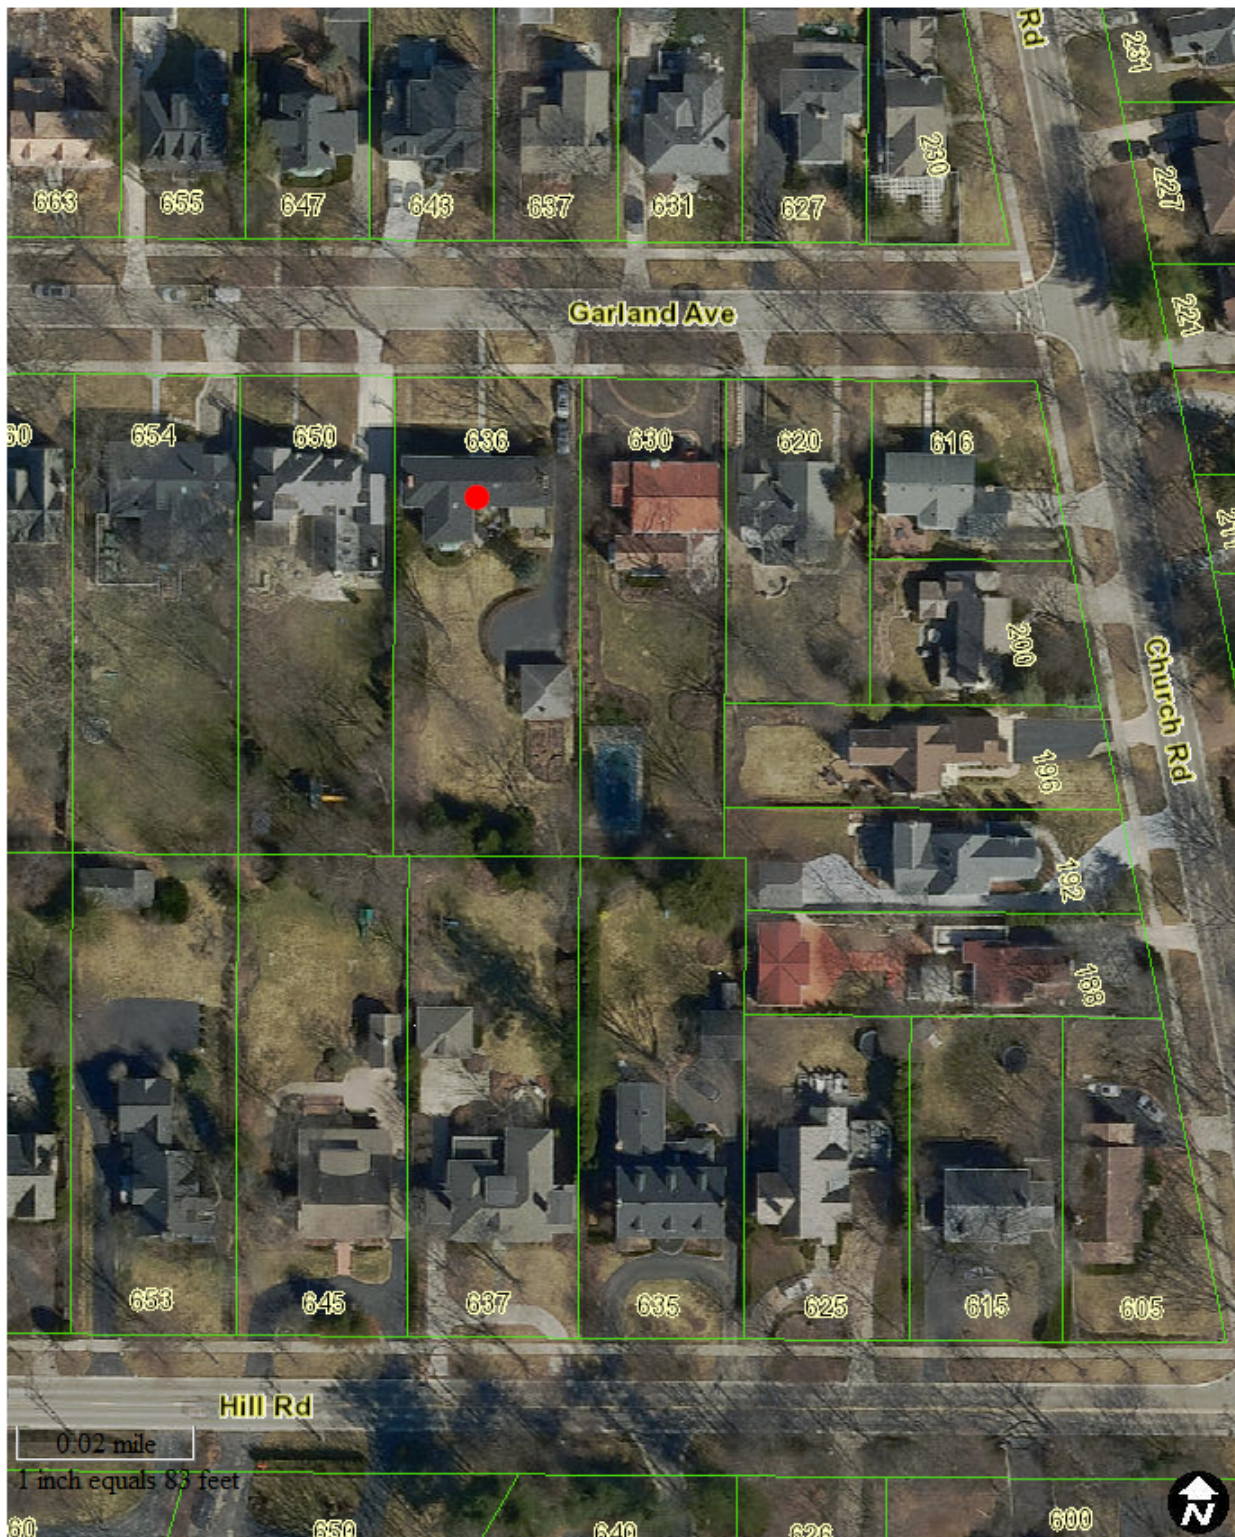

Sincerely,

Mary Trieschmann

Our research indicates that this property does have architectural and historical significance. The original architect of the property, William Aitken, was a well-known architect and builder of several notable homes on the North Shore. He was the founder of the Village of Bannockburn and built many of the first homes there. In Winnetka, Aitken designed and built the Aitken building on the corner of Green Bay Road and Gage Street, as well as the home at 500 Maple, a Winnetka Designated Landmark. Aitken also designed and built the home at 671 Lincoln, where the popular movie “Home Alone” was filmed. 636 Garland is a spacious Georgian Revival that contains many similar features to Aitken’s well-known homes in Winnetka and beyond.

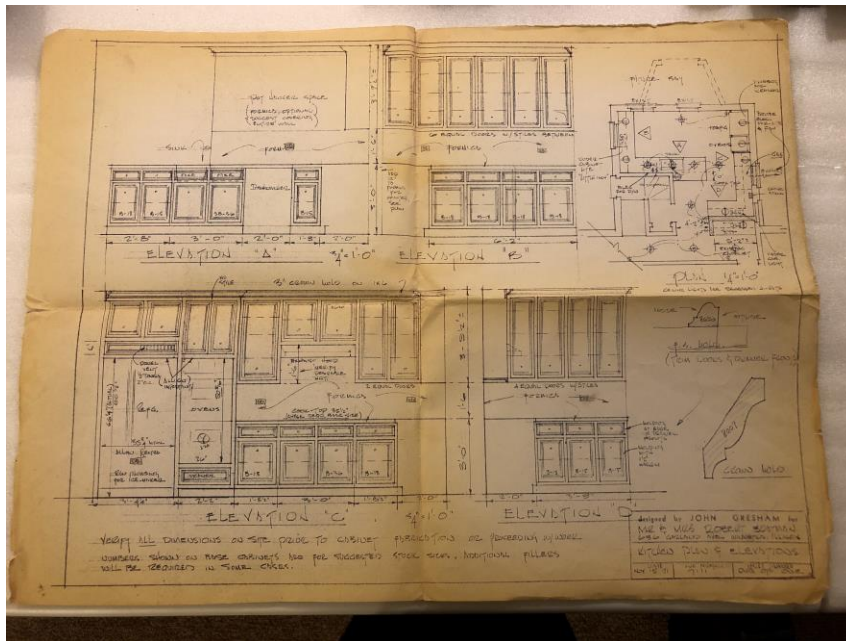

Additionally, this property has been home to several prominent Winnetka residents, including Harold F. Leahy, founder and former president of the LaSalle Paper Company in Chicago. In addition, this property was the home of Robert Boatman and Susan Garland (formerly Susan Boatman). Susan Garland was a longtime Winnetka resident who was involved in various community organizations before she died tragically in a fire that broke out in her bedroom at 636 Garland .

<https://bannockburn.org/community/village-history/>

The first settlers to the area where Bannockburn stands today arrived in 1835 from County Meath, Ireland. Michael Meehan built a log cabin near what is now the northwest corner of Hilltop Lane and Telegraph Road and gradually acquired a total of 283 acres.

William Aitken was an architect and builder who is credited with bringing modern real estate development to the Village. He created a master plan covering 110 acres where he intended to build “country estates” for people who wanted that genteel style of living. Aitken was born in Scotland and used the name “Bannockburn” for his own home and in the names of his subdivisions.

The first homes went up in 1924 and by 1929, when application was made to incorporate the area, there were 30 families in the community—on Meadow Lane, Robin Road, Aitken Drive, Telegraph Road, and in the Wilmot Road/Sunset Lane area. Early residents were very active in developing and shaping the community that they loved, serving as trustees on the village board, organizing the Bannockburn school, creating zoning ordinances that formed the basis of our current zoning codes, and organizing a garden club and numerous charitable activities.

Over the years more land was acquired and today the Village encompasses 1,318 acres located approximately 30 miles north of Chicago, and 4 miles west of Lake Michigan. The original intent of William Aitken—to create a residential community with homes on large tracts of land within a rural atmosphere comprising natural landscapes and open spaces—is preserved to this day, due to the commitment of the residents of the Village of Bannockburn, past and present.

FIND AUTO TAKEN BY LOOTERS OF MALLERS HOME

Clews to Holdup on North Shore Are Slim.

The limousine of Edward B. Mallers, Chicago realty operator, in which a band of robbers escaped from his Kenilworth residence early yesterday with all the portable valuables they could discover during a nine hour search, was found abandoned last evening at 31st street and Emerald avenue, Chicago.

Recovery of the car, which was found by Police Sergt. Michael O'Donnell at 5:30 p. m., reduced Mr. Mallers' loss from $14,410 to $9,100, the difference representing the value of the machine, which was undamaged. Experts at the detective bureau found a few blurred finger prints on the car and a rubber heel from a man's shoe, clews which they admitted, were of little worth.

North Shore Uneasy.

A feeling of insecurity was discernible in the north shore towns last night as residents reflected on the ease with which the robbers gained entrance to the Mallers home, locked Mr. and Mrs. Mallers, their two children and four servants in a closet, prowled through the dwelling from top to bottom, and feasted on the contents of the ice box before driving away at 4:30 a. m.

The leader of the bandits posed as a physician calling to attend the daughter of the family. Once in the vestibule, he beckoned two accomplices from the shrubbery and all drew guns. The maid, the children's nurse, the cook, and the butler were led upstairs and with the children were locked in the closet. Mr. Mallers and his wife reached home at 2 a. m. and were locked up with the others.

Captives Force Door.

An hour elapsed after the robbers escaped before Mr. Mallers and the butler forced the closet door. The loot, as itemized by Mr. Mallers, consisted of a man's racoon coat, $800; fifteen suits of clothing, $1,000; two dozen shirts, $100; one squirrel coat, $500; one carnal coat, $500; one diamond-sapphire watch, $2,000; one platinum ring, $250; one ruby and one emerald ring, $250 each; one set of diamond links and studs, $350; one cigaret lighter with a watch inset, $110, and silver table ware, $3,000.

Coping with house robbers as skilled and deliberate as those in the Mallers robbery is almost impossible, in the opinion of Chief W. M. Peterson of the Winnetka and Chief Henry Brautigam of Wilmette, villages adjoining Kenilworth. The two chiefs drew up a list of suggestions to the public, the tenor of which was that servants should exercise extreme caution in admitting callers.

ROBERT L. BOATMAN

CHICAGO TRIBUNE, September 13, 2000

Robert L. Boatman, 81, a 33-year Masonite Corp. executive who helped the company develop a veneer for doors, died Monday, Sept. 4, in his home in Winnetka after a lengthy illness. Born in Van Wert, Iowa, Mr. Boatman graduated from Iowa State University with a bachelor's degree in forestry, and later earned a master's degree in economics at the University of Minnesota. In 1948, he began selling building products at Masonite Corp.. While at Masonite, he was involved in the creation of a material that gave outer doors the look of wood but kept the price affordable, said his wife, Sue. "That was a major accomplishment because it launched [Masonite's] entry into the [door veneer] market," she said. Survivors also include a daughter, Judith Lise Martin; a son, John Robert "Jack"; a sister, Mary Kay Kull; and three grandchildren. # Longtime Winnetka resident and philanthropist dies in house fire

A longtime Winnetka resident who friends described as a tireless volunteer and philanthropist died in a house fire in the village Friday night, authorities said.

Susan Garland, 82, died in her home Friday night after a fire broke out around 7 p.m. in her bedroom on the second floor of her home in the 600 block of Garland Avenue, Winnetka Fire Captain Robert Bowne said.

The fire department received a call from Garland Friday evening, reporting the house fire, which was contained to the bedroom and quickly extinguished, Bowne said.

Garland died at the scene, and the cause of the fire is suspected to be related to smoking materials, Fire Chief Alan Berkowsky said.

On Saturday, the Rev. Christopher Powell, rector at Christ Church of Winnetka, said he spoke to Garland on the phone earlier in the week, when officials held a virtual Zoom meeting to discuss the Episcopal church's annual rummage sale.

As a member of the church's benevolence committee, Garland was among the volunteers who made site visits every year to non-profit organizations across Chicago that were being considered as recipients of the $200,000 raised annually by the rummage sale.

Although Garland had suffered from health problems in recent years, Powell said she remained a tireless volunteer, always eager to lend a hand and her expertise.

"She stayed very involved in our church, even with her health challenges...she was such an interesting and gracious person. She was a friend to so many," Powell said.

Despite the fact that Garland lived on Garland Avenue, and shared a surname with one of Winnetka's early founders, John Garland, Powell said there was no relation, and called the similarity "a double coincidence."

A master gardener and avid reader, Garland was a member of the local Rhododendron Society and once served on the Winnetka-Northfield Library District's board of trustees.

"Susan was a such a gracious person, and a good friend to many...she always had a smile on her face," Powell said.

SECOND SECTION

WINNETKA, ILLINOIS, SATURDAY, JANUARY 27, 1923

Aitken Block Proves Builder's Genius

AITKEN BLOCK IS BIG ACHIEVEMENT

Hubbard Woods Business Site Proves William Aitken Real Builder

MOVED BIG BUILDING

Aitken Ideals Represented in Product

The new Aitken block at Gage street and Linden avenue, Hubbard Woods, might readily be termed William Aitken's crowning achievement.

As a builder of homes the north Winnetka architect has found no equal in this vicinity. His products, literally rows upon rows of substantial, attractively designed and rightly priced residences, have for years been viewed with pride by Winnetka citizens and visitors in the village.

That William Aitken could produce substantial, and yet attractive priced structures, was a prospect never particularly considered by those who admired his home building.

He did it! But Aitken stepped out and did that very thing. He took the old Forberg building—offered the highest bid for the structure that was condemned to provide a park site—moved it directly across Linden avenue, rebuilt it and added a modern corner site.

Aitken gave the Winnetka Park district $5,000 for the Forberg building, containing a grocery, the Hubbard Woods Postoffice, O'Brien's Tailor shop, a real estate office and two apartments. He moved the structure at a cost of $6,000, and at his own expense graded the prospective park site previously covered by the building.

Wrecking the Forberg building and improving the former site would have cost the Park district between $6,000 and $10,000, it is estimated.

The task of moving the building was one that few builders would care to undertake. Hubbard Woods residents waged it couldn't be done. Just to think of trying to place on wheels a long, rambling brick structure (65 x 55 feet) and move it half a block! The thought was preposterous, they decided.

Aitken showed them the feat could be accomplished.

The Postoffice Problem. After the structure had been placed on its new foundations, Aitken did another astonishing thing. There was talk that the postoffice would have to be moved or service entirely discontinued. But Aitken decided that if Uncle Sam wanted to continue to do business "at the old stand," well, he could arrange it, that's all. Consequently, Uncle Sam stayed and Mr. Aitken proceeded to tear away and rebuild all around the postoffice. Business of serving the public of Hubbard Woods continued uninterrupted, while the postoffice was "on wheels" he provided heat by electricity, although it was necessary to cut the wiring almost daily while the journey was under way.

Mr. Aitken's homes, and now his business block, are examples of his determination to make Hubbard Woods

NEW AITKEN BLOCK—PRIDE OF HUBBARD WOODS

People didn't believe it could be done—move a big brick building half a block, rebuild it, add some more to it and have the finished product a beautiful brick and stucco business block, one of the most substantial and attractive school teachers. The Parent-Teacher association and Mr. Aitken, with the assistance of generous citizens who contributed furnishings, provided these attractive quarters for the teachers in the public schools, thus solving an ever-prevalent housing problem.

Bake Shop Enjoys Boom Right From Its Opening

The Hubbard Woods Bake-shop, now open in the Aitken Building, is another example of what a bake shop can do to give a high class neighborhood pie, cakes, doughnuts, etc., things that taste like mother used to make.

It can be done, judging by the line of customers always coming and going from the new bake shop.

Dr. Lyngholm Is Welcomed by Hubbard Woods People

Dr. Thorwald Lyngholm, osteopathic physician, has opened offices in the new Aitken Block. Already he enjoys an encouraging practice and is well known on the north shore.

Dr. Lyngholm only recently returned from Europe where he had been making a study of children's diseases.

Killian, the Plumber, Does Fine Job in Aitken Block

The new Aitken building boasts of fourteen complete baths. All are the work of Vic J. Killian, Hubbard Woods plumbing contractor. Mr. Killian has been in business in Hubbard Woods for two years and has established an excellent reputation through the splendid quality of his work.

an attractive place in which to live and shop. He is a strong Hubbard Woods booster and takes keen pride in building what he likes to call "Winnetka homes"—homes that others like to call "Aitken homes."

N. T. C. A. LAUNCHES MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

A membership of not less than 100 by March 1, is the goal of the New Trier Commercial association in its membership campaign to be launched early next week.

At its regular meeting Monday evening of this week, the association appointed a committee comprising J. J. Moran, J. A. Seymour, George White, Carl Stern and William Taylor, to have charge of the campaign, which will continue until March 1.

The association now boasts a membership of more than 70 New Trier business and professional men.

At the Tuesday meeting the association secretary was authorized to purchase a typewriter and mimeograph machine to be utilized in providing lists of new residents for the members of the organization.

Friendship Circle Prepares for Annual Valentine Party

Tuesday evening, February 13, is the date set for the annual dance of Friendship Circle at Winnetka Community House.

Many will read this with interest because the girls of the club have been asked frequently when the dance was to take place. It will be a Valentine Party and Arns orchestra will furnish the music.

Last Tuesday evening the club was entertained by Mrs. George L. Cherry, who gave several very interesting and amusing readings.

There will be another surprise next week and the leaders of the club are anxious to have all the members, as well as newcomers, participate in the evening's activities.

Hubbard Woods Lumber-Coal Co. Material in New Block

The Hubbard Woods Lumber and Coal company had much to do with the Aitken Block, north Winnetka's largest and newest Commercial structure.

Practically all the building material in the Aitken block was provided by the Hubbard Woods Lumber and Coal company, of which Joe Morcer is the well known directing genius.

Baseball Club Benefit Hop Due for Saturday, Feb. 10

The Winnetka Baseball club of the North Shore Baseball league announces a benefit dance on Saturday evening, February 10, at Community House.

Muscle of the best is promised for this occasion. Proceeds will go into the club fund.

Woodland Market Finds Place in Hubbard Woods

One of the most up-to-date and best stocked groceries and markets on the north shore is the Woodland grocery and market, which opened recently in the new Aitken building.

Mr. Sturdliff, proprietor, was formerly in business in Glenview. He is serving Hubbard Woods in an efficient manner that is bringing him more customers every day.

Miss Trapp's Millinery to Stress Creative Headgear

The opening of Miss Frances Trapp's new millinery store in the Aitken block will be a real event for the women of Winnetka, Hubbard Woods and Glenview. Miss Trapp and her work are already well known on the north shore.

Her new shop is unusually attractive, and will have all the latest styles on display. Her work is original and creative.

Hearthstone Proves "Eats" Are Good Away From Home

It is a hard thing to find a place where the eats are as good (or better) than real home cooking. But, about Thanksgiving time the Hearthstone Tea and Candy shop opened in the new Aitken building, announcing the food would be better than the average Tea room or restaurant could provide.

Those who have tried it, seem to agree that the food is "as good as the best" and the Tea room is growing more popular day by day.

In the candy shop everything is "really home made." 'Nuff sed.

COUNTRY CLUB HAS ITS OWN MAGAZINE

First Issue of Ouilmette Country Club Magazine Delights Members

HAS MANY FEATURES

Robert McKnight, Editor and Manager

The Ouilmette Country Club Magazine, Robert McKnight, editor and manager, appeared in its first issue last Friday from the presses of Lloyd Hollister Inc.

The publication is to be issued once a month, is singularly a Winnetka product, its advertising columns being confined almost exclusively to Winnetka business enterprises, and its news pertaining exclusively to matters of interest to members and bearing upon activities of the Ouilmette Country club.

On the Publication committee of the magazine are listed the names of men prominent in the village and Chicago business circles. John Blair Whidden is chairman of this committee and his fellow members are W. Frank McClure and H. H. Kuhl.

News of Club Doings

The maiden issue of the Ouilmette Country Club Magazine contains many interesting features, including a section devoted to social news and personal items concerning club members; some pep-laden editorials; the January calendar of club events; poems and articles written by club members; an extremely interesting "feature" story about Charles E. Sharpless, chef de cuisine, otherwise known as steward and chef of the club; a complete list of officers, directors, and members of the club, and many other most readable articles.

Those in charge of the publication are planning many interesting features for forthcoming issues of the magazine. There are planned an inquiring editor's column; a gallery of "when you and I were young" photographs; pictures of members' babies; pictures of household pets; a column "from which R. H. L. R. R. and F. P. will hasten to pattern," and a department of domestic science "for which Good Housekeeping Magazine may offer almost anything for syndicate rights."

Aitken Block Contains a Well-Equipped Barber Shop

One of the most up-to-date and complete barber shops on the north shore is now located in the new Aitken building. Bert Smale, the proprietor, is very enthusiastic over the new location.

This shop makes a specialty of children's work.

BUYS O'DEA RESIDENCE

T. R. Benson of Berling Lane has purchased the O'Dea residence at 601 Ash street. The Benson family will occupy the home after renovations are completed.

GETTING OFF THE "STILTS"

"It couldn't be done," but here is a section of the old building before it was dropped on the new foundation. Looks like a cyclone did it.

A NEW ROOF FOR THE OLD

That fancy gable room was not on the original building. The idea was Aitken's and here is an "exclusive" photo showing how it was done.
